

DRY GOODS FOR FALL SEASON OF '95. AT THE PEOPLES STORE.

Fifth Street and the Diamond.

H. E. PORTER.

We respectfully ask the ladies of East Liverpool and vicinity to visit our store this week, and see the new FALL GOODS just opened. They consist of an elegant line of Dress Goods and Dress Trimmings—the first novelties of the season. We have also for your inspection our first lot of Ladies' and Misses' Jackets, and a magnificent display of Ladies' Capes in velvet, cloth and silk. The prices are remarkably low for quality and style of goods now awaiting your approval and inspection.

THE PEOPLE'S STORE

THIS WEEK

—WE CALL ATTENTION TO—

3-SPECIAL DRIVES-3

Don't Smile When We Tell You the First on the List Is A Blanket Drive.

We admit that even to talk of Blankets these hot days gives one a tired feeling, but nevertheless when we tell you there is a saving of at least a dollar to a dollar and a half a pair in these blankets for you we know you will be very much alive to your own interest in the matter. Cold weather is ahead of us all right.

$3.50 a Pair

Is the hot weather price of the case of Blankets we propose to make a run on this week. They are pure wool country Blankets, large size, good weight, and come in white, red, gray and plaids. If they don't give you a five dollar bill of satisfaction then we won't ever ask you to buy another Blanket from us.

12 Yards for $1.

The second drive is 12 yards of a 12c Unbleached Canton Flannel for $1.00.

16 Rolls for $1.00.

The third drive is 16 rolls of a good 10c Cotton Batt for $1. No more than $1 worth each of Flannel and Batts sold to any one customer.

MAKING READY A WAY

Cincinnati In Earnest on the River Improvement.

ENORMOUS IS THE FREIGHT

That Passes Along the Great Ohio Every Year, and It Will Cost a Lot of Money to Do the Work—Some Estimates—All Ready For the Convention in October. What Is Needed.

The various committees of the Cincinnati chamber of commerce having having in charge the proposed improvement of the Ohio river are busy these days, and it is hoped their work will not come to naught.

A vast amount of literature is being prepared and sent out each week to the country directly affected by the improvement of the river with the hope that Cincinnati will not be compelled to fight the battle alone. Special reports have been prepared, and among them can be found valuable information dealing with the river and its navigable tributaries. The Ohio river system floated in 1889 vessels to the number of 6,245 having a tonnage of 2,920,468 and valued at $8,696,341 which is more than double the amount credited to the Mississippi. The number of passengers carried exceeded 9,000,000, and the freight was over 16,000,000 while the number of miles traveled was over 3,000,000. Taking the whole Mississippi system it is found that 51.5 per cent of the freight handled was on the Ohio, and about two-thirds of that amount represented the commerce proper of the Ohio river. The government engineers furnish information for the year ending Dec. 31, 1893, which shows that 7,371,804 tons of freight were moved on the Ohio, exclusive of what came from its navigable tributaries. If to this is added a large movement of logs, lumber, railroad ties, etc., towed and rafted merchandise, and produce moved on flatboats and trading boats, the aggregate will be increased by no less than 1,500,000 tons. The Ohio proper is navigable for a distance of 967 miles, and with its tributaries, 2,894 miles, one of the finest river systems on the face of the earth. The Ohio traverses the very heart of the country's area of productive industry, and the states bordering on it have a population of 20,000,000 souls.

From the literature sent out by the committee it is learned that the work of improving the river is in charge of a government officer of engineers, whose expenditures are restricted to the amount appropriated by congress for the purpose. The task is divided into three distinct branches, in keeping the channel free from obstructions by means of the snag boat now tied up at this city, freeing the channel from accretions of gravel by means of dredging machines, and in creating uniform depth of channel by dams. The work of the snag boat is limited in its efficiency by reason of the restricted appropriation. The $25,000 allowed every year is insufficient to maintain the boat in commission the entire year, and at least double that sum should be available for that purpose. This matter is not governed by changes of every congress, but is made permanent by the act of 1890 which created the work. The value of the service cannot be lightly estimated, and the work of the boat in removing wrecks and obstructions has done much to enhance safety in navigation of the Ohio, particularly in low water.

The work of dredging is continuous. The most modern and efficient appliances are essential in this work, which must be maintained out of the annual sums appropriated for the river.

The most expensive work of improvement and protection to navigation is that of dykes and dams. No single year's appropriation would be sufficient to complete the work which is practically in this direction. The committee is assured that by a comprehensive system of this character a uniform depth of not less than six feet in the center of the channel can be secured. The statistics in the hands of the committee demonstrate the volume of tonnage passing down the Ohio annually to be greater than is born upon any navigable water in America, excepting only such rivers as form connecting links in the chain of great lakes over which all interstate commerce must pass. The amounts appropriated toward the improvement of the Ohio have been in time past insignificant compared to the sum devoted to the Missouri and Mississippi. The latest report of Colonel Stickney shows that the river has been allowed since 1827 the first appropriation, $5,329,479, while the Great Kanawha, one of its tributaries has been given over

$3,000,000 and the Muskingum, another tributary got over a million. Pittsburgh alone sent to Cincinnati and Louisville by the river over 21,000,000 tons of coal in ten years, and the trade is growing with every year. The losses by collision with bridges amount to almost half a million dollars a year, and other damage runs the amount to a much larger sum.

In summing up its duty the committee expresses the belief that the best method to reach the congressional ear is to show all these things to the congressmen who represent the states bordering on the river at the meeting to be held in October, and a collection be raised for the prosecution of the work. The best way to obtain recognition is to have the chief of engineers of the army embody in his report a recommendation for an appropriation, and this part has moved forward to where Colonel Stickney has asked $1,000,000 to push the improvement next year. The committee also wants the plan presented in ship shape condition to the river and harbor improvement committee when congress meets next winter. Liverpool should play an important part in the movement for it means great things for this city and its industry.

STEADILY IMPROVING.

The Crockery Trade Is Getting Better Every Week.

The Trenton correspondent of China, Glass and Lamps sees the situation in this light:

"The fall trade has fairly opened in at least some of the potteries, and the general feeling in this locality is one of encouragement. The orders which are being received, although not generally large, are fairly numerous, and the travelers who have returned from their first trips say that the indications are encouraging all along the line. The fact that the orders are usually small is not in itself a sign, nor is it one which ought to discourage the manufacturer. It indicates a feeling among dealers that goods are needed. It shows that they want to buy. But it also shows that full confidence in the market has not been restored. As the effects of the renewed business activity begin to be felt, however, this feeling will soon wear off, and manufacturers may confidently expect longer orders in the near future."

In New York the big jobbers and retailers see trade through glasses throwing this reflection:

"While business is steadily upon the increase, and the predictions so freely made for the fall trade seem likely to be realized in a few weeks' time, still the conservatism which has prevailed for the past three years is yet felt. Those retailers who err in the direction of over-cautiousness in failing to buy now according to the requirements of their stock, may find later that they have exemplified the old penny wise—pound foolish. The prices of both foreign and domestic goods have been pressed down to the lowest notch. It is proven by experience that they can not long remain stationary. Who then can doubt that an advance in prices is in store for us before long? The increase may not be a material one, but, nevertheless, the buyer who miscalculates his requirements and is forced to replenish will find he has been mistaken in his forecast."

TESTED THE SWEEPER.

Agent Hershey Replevin'd Yesterday Evening—Trial Tuesday.

The street sweeper was taken by law from the local freight office yesterday evening by Agent Hershey, and was tested by Commissioner Welch.

The sweeper was seized by Constable Lyon after Mr. Hershey had begun an action in replevin in Squire Rose's court and the case will be tried on Tuesday. Mr. Hershey claims damages amounting to more than the freight on the machine.

Councilmen Stewart, Owen, Peake and Challis saw the sweeper as it was tested from the railroad to the Horn switch along Broadway and down East Market street, through the Diamond to Fifth. It worked satisfactorily.

COMING AND GOING.

Families Are Moving Here and Others Are Going Away.

More movings of household goods were seen around the freight depot today than have been there at one time in months, and the majority were leaving town.

Carl St. Clair moved here from Uhrichsville, and George Morton shipped his effects to Salem. Mrs. Mary Weaver had her goods sent to Carnegie, and Edward Webster shipped his to Louisville, Ky. Charles Candell sent his effects to Parkersburg, and W. H. Miller had his sent to Cadiz. The show occupied so much space at the depot that little business was done in the freight department.

ONLY SOME SECONDS

Our Boys Could Not Win at the Lisbon Races.

MONEY TO BACK TOM YORK

There Was a Lot of It There If the County Seat People Had Taken It—Trappe Got a Pair of Seconds and Hale Was Very Much in Evidence.

The bicycle enthusiasts who went to see the races in Lisbon yesterday came home in the rain last night and this morning, and a madder set of men would be hard to find upon the foot-stool.

They had been cheated out of the races, and they didn't like it. York, the pride of the road riders, had gone down before what the Liverpool people believed was a dirty piece of juggling, and Trappe had never won a chance on the track. Hale did not get a first, and Irons was cheated out of his laurels by rain. It was a hard day for Liverpool, and the rain made the roads so miserable that it was a weary, disgusted crowd who came home in the evening or during the pitchy darkness of the night.

People who saw the road race and who were given the time immediately on its completion, can not understand why Bonnell, the Hubbard rider, was given first time prize. When the word was given York started at a good pace, and as he passed up the hill Jack Harris ran into the road, and asked him if he would have a drink. At that moment York did not want refreshments, and the Liverpool man left him to continue the journey. In 10 minutes someone had entered a protest that York had been pushed up the hill, and was therefore out of the race. Many Liverpool people saw the action, and, knowing there was no truth in the protest, began to kick. As one man they protested against such treatment, and the officers of the race wisely refrained from considering the protest. But they had another way to kill him, and they did it easily. There was a juggling of time either through error or intent which gave him second place. When Bonnell, the winner, crossed the scratch at the Hostetter house York was at the court house, and he could have made the distance, and his friends claim did make it, in much less than the timers allowed. When the decision was announced there was a great crowd of Liverpool people at the hotel, and when some Lisbon man ventured the opinion that York was an over rated rider and was no good any way there was war. Money flashed on every side, and $500 was raised in as many minutes to back the assertion that he could beat any man in Lisbon a 10 mile race over any track in the county. That settled York's supremacy as far as another race is concerned, and nothing more was heard about betting. Bonnell, the winner, is a great rider, but the people who ought to know say that he can not enter the same class with York.

At the track races in the afternoon there was more fun. The track was so slow that the riders refused to accept 2:35 as the limit, and compelled the officers to advance it five seconds. The half-mile handicap was won by Smith, who had a good start over Trappe, on the scratch. In spite of the heavy handicap Trappe finished almost neck and neck with him, and Hale was only a short distance in the rear. It was a pretty finish, and if the track had been in good condition Liverpool would have won that first easily. Aughenbaugh won the mile open, Trappe second, Steel third, and Hale fourth. The time was 2:33 3-5, and the riders worked hard for victory. Rain prevented the carrying out of the program, much to the regret of the crowd, as some exciting contests were promised. Experiences by the score marked the return of the Liverpool contingent, the darkness being so dense that cutting it with a knife was an easy task if all the stories be true. The Liverpool riders declare it was impossible for them to ride with everything as it was against them.

It has been decided to have the meet continued some date in October, and the prizes not won yesterday will be held over until that time. The club will add a few more contests to the list, and expect a large number of entries.

READY FOR CAMP.

Company E Boys Will Leave Tomorrow For Newark.

Last night Company E had their final drill in the rink and a large crowd watched the movements of the soldier boys under instruction from Captain Supplee. The boys were in heavy marching order and were drilled in slinging and unslinging of knap sacks, stacking arms, company drill, etc. All the knap sacks have been packed with blankets and other necessities and the boys will fill their haversacks with eatables this evening to be in readiness. The new canteens present a neat appearance and other improvements have been added in the way of iron racks for cooking and a larger mess outfit.

The passenger and baggage coaches arrived today and were sidetracked for the 8:56 train, which the soldiers will take for Steubenville tomorrow morning, and, going over the Panhandle, will reach Newark at 1:30 o'clock.

Private Joe Davis and Corporal Will Kinsey, who have been working in Cleveland, arrived home yesterday to attend the encampment.

A BROKEN BOTTLE

Causes Harry Pepin's Little Son to Lose a Finger.

The five-year-old son of Harry Pepin met with painful injuries as a result of handling a broken bottle yesterday afternoon on Elm street.

The youngster was playing about the yard when he picked up a bottle and attempted to throw it. The index finger of his right hand caught in a hole in the side of the bottle and the end was sliced off, the bone being exposed. The youngster suffered intense pain, and became weak from the loss of blood. He was taken to the office of Dr. F. M. Laughlin, and he and Doctor McVoy chloroformed the lad and by a neat operation took off the finger this afternoon.

A COMMITTEE.

Business Men Will Try To Push Early Closing Along.

There was a goodly attendance of business men at the meeting in the Y. M. C. A. rooms last evening, and the question of closing at 6 o'clock during the year was thoroughly discussed. Every merchant present with possibly one exception favored the move, and a committee was appointed to see all the business men and endeavor to persuade them in the right direction. A prominent merchant expressed the belief this morning that the move would fall through because a few would not consent to the innovation. It must be all or none for merchants will not allow one to have an advantage.

TWO WEDDINGS

Solemnized in the City Yesterday Afternoon and Evening.

Mr. Thomas Hayden and Miss Iva Garen were married at the home of the bride yesterday evening by Doctor Taggart, of the First United Presbyterian church, in the presence of a few friends. The happy couple have the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

Mr. Thomas A. Davis, of Allegheny, and Miss Maude E. Whitehill, of Fredericktown, were married at the parsonage by Doctor Taggart yesterday afternoon, and took the train for Allegheny, where they will reside.

HUMPHRIES AGAIN.

Thomas Once More Charged With Being Disorderly.

Mrs. George Bolton called at the mayor's office last night, and for the second time entered a complaint of disorderly conduct against Thomas Humphries. She claimed that Thomas had been throwing stones at her house, and using language that is against the law. Thomas was notified by the police to appear, and tell the mayor all about it tomorrow. He denies that he did anything wrong, and says that he will not allow any one to punish him if he can help it. He will probably stand trial.

TRIAL NEXT WEEK.

Harrison Rinehart's Case Prosecuted—A Jury Asked For.

The complaint against Harrison Rinehart for allowing his wagons to remain in the alley near his stable at Jackson square will in all probability be tried next week. The defendant has asked for a jury trial, but as there is no imprisonment attached to the penalty it is not likely that a jury will be allowed. Solicitor Clark and his opponent will argue a motion for jury. Trial before the mayor tomorrow.

ON SUNDAY

The Mayor Will Order All Unnecessary Work Suspended.

Mayor Gilbert has decided to issue the order governing the closing of soda water fountains, cigar stands and other places where unnecessary labor is performed. The societies who urged the mayor to take this step are preparing to collect evidence for the prosecution of those who do not obey, but it is believed that the order will be very generally obeyed in all parts of the city.

TOUCHED HIM EARLY

James Watt, of Ohioville, Lost His Pocketbook.

TWO SUSPECTS WERE DETAINED

The Woman Was Taken To the Thompson House and the Men Went to Jail—The Robbery Was Committed As the Man Left a Train.

In spite of repeated warnings to keep an eye open for pickpockets James Watt, of Ohioville, lost his pocketbook before he had been in the city ten minutes this morning.

Watt was about to leave the morning train from the east when he felt some one touching his pockets. Instinctively he knew he was in a bad crowd, and made an effort to get away, but there was a crush, and when he did get out his pocketbook containing a $20 bill was gone. He at once reported the case to the police, and Chief Gill and Officer Meador began to look for suspects. All the force are at work today, and the town was so well covered that the police soon located a young man and a woman believed to be his wife. Watt thought he recognized them as being near him when his money was stolen and the pair were detained. The man was taken to city hall and locked up and the woman was detained at the Thompson House until more evidence could be secured.

The man gave his name as William Weiber and his residence as Pittsburgh. At a conference with the police Watt was unable to state positively that the accused had taken his money, but expressed the belief, when Detective Shiffler said he had seen three persons in the crowd, that some one had taken his money, and then passed it on to another.

This afternoon the stranger and his wife wilted and gave Watt $25 for their release, although denying the theft. Mr. Watt presented the police with the extra $5 for their services.

ADJUSTORS HERE.

Insurance Men Looking Over the Liverpool Plant.

Edward Stanberry, of Cincinnati, N. T. Julian, of Columbus, and J. R. Vernon, of Salem, representing fire insurance companies in which the East Liverpool pottery was insured are in the city today.

They are looking over the portion of the East Liverpool Pottery company's plant damaged by fire this week. They expect to finish their work and adjust the loss by tomorrow morning.

TO LISBON TOMORROW.

George Heckathorn Will Be Taken Overland.

George Heckathorn, the youth who delights in pistol practice on the streets, will be taken to Lisbon tomorrow, and will there be given a sentence by Judge Young. If he is sent to jail for a few months he will make another addition to the Liverpool colony controlled by Sheriff Lodge. The other principals in that little body are Pat Densmore and Mrs. Barcus, both charged with serious crimes.

NO SAGGARS.

Potters Think It Is a Great Scheme For Making Ware.

It is said that well-known potters have decided to make jet ware which can be fired without the use of saggars, and a company will be formed for the purpose of building a plant. The details of the plan are not made known, but it is said that the scheme has been thoroughly tested, and found to be successful. It has often been tried, but until the present time has met with little success.

D. J. SMITH ILL.

He Is Suffering From Typhoid Fever At His Home.

D. J. Smith, perhaps the best known farmer of the county, is confined to his home at Mt. Pisgah by a severe attack of typhoid fever. The gentleman has been ill for several days and word was brought to the city last night that he was in a dangerous condition, his life being despaired of. It is sincerely hoped that the report is exaggerated as Mr. Smith has many friends in this city.

A FATAL VISIT.

A Salem Man Died While On a Pleasure Trip.

Special to the News Review.

LISBON, Aug. 30.—Three weeks ago William H. Morlan accompanied by his wife and child came to visit at the residence of Mrs. Albright, north of town. They were seized with typhoid fever, and Morlan died last night. Word from there this morning says that Mrs. Morlan is in a dying condition and it will be impossible for her to recover.

COXEY made a speech in Chicago the other day in which he promised his hearers that he would be the next governor of Ohio. As a romancer Coxe stands head and shoulders above the partisans of any party.

MR. CAMPBELL dropped into Cincinnati the other day, and told the newspapers that this was to be a campaign on state issues. Evidently the Hamilton statesman can not afford to shoulder the mistakes of Cleveland and his crew, incidentally explaining why Brice killed the Wilson bill.

A DEMOCRATIC VIEW.

John R. McClain who owns a rabid free silver paper in Cincinnati, and operates an equally radical gold journal in New York, has this to say of existing conditions:

"Brice took Ohio easy. The administration forces were too much for the gentlemen without fodder. Can't beat patronage. More than that Brice is a very able man. Doesn't let his matters drift. Attends to them himself. Never sends a boy to the mill. The results have been well known for two weeks. Now the sterner part of the struggle begins.
 It's Democratic Brice against Republican Foraker. That's a real fight.
 Can Brice overcome the tremendous majorities that the Republicans have had for the last two years in Ohio? He knows just how many guns Foraker carries and just about what Foraker will do, and Foraker has got a right good line on Brice. It will be two strong men going against each other.
 Of course the campaign is going to cost Senator Brice a pretty penny, but politics is his dad, don't seem to care for the horses, or yachts or anything like that, and he will spend his money where it gives him most pleasure. He will find no difficulty in getting rid of it in politics."

Mr. McClain neglected to remember that the great mass of Ohio people are with Mr. Foraker. The shining gold of Colonel Brice will buy some, but it can not buy them all.

Altgeld Holding Back the Money.

PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 30.—The last legislation appropriated $1,200 for a new monument to Governor Thomas Ford, whose remains lie in Springfield cemetery at Peoria, but Governor Altgeld refuses to allow, but Governor Altgeld until citizens of Peoria have raised $50 to see that the lot is taken care of.

ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 30.—Governor Altgeld of Illinois, when passing through this city, in conversation with your correspondent, said that in his opinion the victory of Senator Quay in Pennsylvania is a severe rebuke to corporations.

Jury For Durrant Secured.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—The work of completing a jury to try Theodore Durrant has been ended by the acceptance of Samuel F. Dutton, a wholesale stationer. Both sides joined in a request for an adjournment until Monday. The court granted the request.

tember 15.

THE STATE COMMITTEE MEETS.

An Executive Committee Chosen at a Conference at Columbus to Manage the Campaign—General Anderson, of Greenville, Is Named as the Chairman.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 30.—The Democratic state central committee has met and elected the following executive committee to manage the campaign:

General C. M. Anderson, Greenville, chairman; J. A. Norton of Tiffin, J. P.
 Seward of Mansfield, George W. Mc-Cook of Steubenville, John Van Fleet of Kenton, B. W. Layton of Wapakoneta, J. J. McKenney of Hamilton,
 William Beatty of Toledo and F. J.
 Reinhard of Columbus.

The time and place of opening the campaign was left to the executive committee, but the consensus of opinion was that it should be about Sept. 15.

Colored Knights Elect Officers.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 30.—At the conclave of the Colored Grand Commandery Knights Templars of Ohio, the following officers were elected: Most eminent commander, Alexander Morris of Louisville, Ky.; deputy grand commander, J. Butler Taylor, Columbus; grand generalissimo, Charles A. Cottell, Toledo; grand captain general, Charles E. Gordon; grand prelate, Thomas W. Walker, Cleveland; grand senior warden, William Copeland, Cincinnati; grand junior warden, J. H.
 Hargraves, Zanesville; grand treasurer, George Fields, Toledo; grand recorder, Jere A. Brown, Cleveland.

Had Feeling Over "Belling."

ELYRIA, O., Aug. 30.—J. B. Thompson of West View, a brother to ex-Mayor Thompson of Lorain, has caused the arrest of Thomas Williams, Ambrose Bennett and William Feltjes, who it is alleged gave Thompson a "belling" a few nights ago, supposing that he had just been married. Thompson secured a divorce from his wife here a few weeks ago under sensational circumstances. He denies that he has remarried. The men arrested were brought before a justice here, and bound over in the sum of $300 each.
 West View in badly torn up over the matter.

Cleveland Breweries to Combine.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 30.—It is said that negotiations have been in progress here for several days past looking toward the combination of all the breweries in this city. It is claimed that it is not the intention to raise the price on beer, but to do away with the backing now extended to saloonists by the brewers, which consumes a large percentage of the latter's profits.

A Panic at Canton.

CANTON, O., Aug. 30.—During a cloud-bale, one section of the canvass of Buffalo Bill's Wild West show was torn away, and a panic ensued, which was suppressed by the attendants.
 Thousands of people were soaked with rain. Nobody was badly hurt.

Coxey Says He Will Win.

ZANESVILLE, O., Aug. 30.—J. S. Coxey, Populist candidate for governor, passed through here on his way to Fairview, to address the Penderoy reunion. Two cents were filled with his published addresses. He said that the contest had narrowed down to himself and General Bushnell. Campbell was not in it. He thinks he will win.

Burglars Shoot a Clerk.

NELSONVILLE, O., Aug. 30.—Burglars attacked the hardware store of Cable & Co., and broke through a window, but were met by several watchmen who were expecting the burglars. Several shots were fired. The burglars escaped, but James Knight, a clerk in the store, was fatally shot in the head.

Shot at a "Peeping Tom."

PORTSMOUTH, O., Aug. 30.—A "Peeping Tom" is causing considerable excitement in the eastern portion of the city. He was shot at by John Cunnington, and it is believed the shot took effect, as blood was found on the sidewalk.

SMALL OHIO HAPPENINGS.

Springfield is to have a new high school building.
 Mrs. Samuel Border of Bascom gave birth to triplets. All are boys and are doing well.

There was a costly freight wreck near North Amherst, on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railway. No lives lost.

The Baptist association composed of the counties of Greene, Fayette, Clinton, Highland and Ross, is holding its annual session at Wilmington.

Alex Seymour, the Covington contractor who thought he had been robbed of $250 in Portsmouth, found his pocketbook, containing the amount, in the lining of his coat, where he had hid it.

Governor McKinley appointed E. G.
 Coffin of Springfield, W. J. Akers and
 W. D. Patterson of Cleveland to represent Ohio at the annual congress of the National Prison association, at Denver, Sept.
 14-18.

Secretary of State Taylor has received official notice that the executive committee of the People's party has filled the vacancy on their ticket by selecting Charles Bonnell of Columbia county as the candidate for state auditor.

Samuel McGraw, James Matthews, Frank Matthews and Richard Flannery, well known Twin Creek farmers, who are charged with having attempted to whitewash Henry Garding, an old and somewhat disolute citizen, have been arrested.

Bowles Bros., owners of a Springfield commission fruit house, are out $75 at the hands of a commercial traveler calling himself E. M. Miller of New York, who persuaded them to let him handle their goods in addition to his own goods. He collected the money and kept it.

Mabel G. Lasure has brought suit against Policemen George Niedergall, John Corrigan and Allen M. Britton, members of the Dayton police force, to recover damages in the sum of $5,000. The suit is based on a raid made by the above officers a few nights ago, and the arrest and confinement in the stationhouse of Miss Lasure on suspicion.

Two of Schweinfurth's Followers Appear In a Strange Case In Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Carl Nicholson, the 19-year-old son of a prominent college professor of Denmark, has played Trilby at a criminal court trial here and told of his experience with a female evangelist in "Messiah" Schweinfurth's "Heaven," at Rockford, Ills.
 Miss Minnie Eller, who was once an "angel" at Rockford, but is now a clerk in a Chicago department store, had caused the young Dane's arrest charging him with the theft of her watch. Nicholson countered with the charge that Miss Eller had hypnotized him while he was a brother angel at Rockford.

He was so thoroughly under her influence his attorney declared, that when Miss Eller left the "Heaven" he could not endure her absence and came to Chicago to secure her return, taking her watch as a pledge that she would again join the "angel" band. The case was compromised, after the trial began and an attempt will be made by attorneys to have the Denmark relatives of the lad prosecute Schweinfurth who, with Miss Eller, is charged with almost wrecking his mind.

FRANKFORT, Ind., Aug. 30.—Montana Kid, Rio Grande Bill and Prairie Skipp, all members of Irvin's Wild West show, have been arrested at the fairground, on complaint of the Fair association, for trespassing. The Kid resisted, and the Police men hurt jockeys from his pony and hurt the jockeys were drawn, and for a while it looked like somebody would be killed.
 Prairie Skipp attempted to shoot Bury, but Officer Welty got a drop on her and compelled her to change her mind.

Hawaiians Will Urge Annexation When Congress Meets.

By Congressman Hilborn, of California.
 To Study the Situation In the Islands.
 Natives Largely In Favor of Closer Political Relations With England.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Colonel MacFarlane, former aide de campe to the late King Kalakaua, has just arrived in London. In an interview, he said that he was informed that a few Hawaiian politicians and merchants who favored the old form of government would wait upon President Cleveland when congress reassembles to urge the annexation of the Sandwich Islands. The primary object, he said, would be to test the sincerity of the officials of the Hawaiian republic. A large number of Americans, he remarked, had joined the Republican party in Hawaii, it being generally understood that the existing republic in the Sandwich Islands provided only for a temporary government until annexation to the United States could be arranged.

The present officials having been in office a year or more and no special effort having been made to attain this end, the Americans in Honolulu are dubious respecting the intentions of the present Hawaiian republic, hence the projected application to the United States government for annexation.
 Congressman Samuel G. Hilborn of California recently visited Honolulu, and Colonel MacFarlane says that he will urge in congress the necessity of sending a commission for the purpose of studying the situation there.

In conclusion, Colonel MacFarlane explains that Mr. Cleghorn, the father of Princess Kaiulani, is now en route for England, accompanied by ex-Consul Wodehouse. It is believed that one of the objects of their visit is to present to the British government a full and detailed account of the situation in the Hawaiian Islands and the causes that led to the overthrow of the monarchy there. The natives, he thought, were not wholly opposed to the policy of annexation to the United States. Still, failing to bring about the restoration of the monarchy to which they naturally incline, they would really prefer annexation to Great Britain. Of course, the American commercial influence is in the ascendant, but the British influence is also large.

Colonel MacFarlane favored a permanent republic or else a permanent restoration of the monarchy, the best elements of both parties forming a coalition for the support of the government. Failing such coalition, annexation to the United States would be the most advantageous commercially, but there is no doubt that if a test vote were taken, the natives, who constitute a majority, would vote largely in favor of closer political relations with England.

The Dogs Are After Him.

BLUFFTON, Ind., Aug. 30.—A posse of men and two bloodhounds from Van Buren are hot in pursuit of William Blangley, the proprietor of a quartshop in the southern part of the county, who fired the contents of his revolver into the body of Carey Bell, a common laborer of Dillman, Ind.
 Blangley's motive for the deed was revenge. Bell having beaten him in a fight a few nights previous.

 Cherokee strip good. The decision affects 3,000 homesteaders and town lot settlers who hold these certificates.

Mysterious Murder on the Street.

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich., Aug. 30.—Mr.
 John Knutson has been murdered by unknown parties on Main street. The weapon was a large revolver, fired at close range, the ball entering back of the left ear. Knutson's money and other valuables were untouched.

Marie Burroughs Divorced.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—Marie Burroughs, the actress, has been granted a divorce in the superior court from her husband, Louis P. Masson, on account of the latter's unfaithfulness.

Pittsburg Enthusiastically Selected For the Conclave of 1898.

BOSTON, Aug. 30.—The Grand Encampment, Knights Templar, has chosen for grand master Right Eminent Sir Warren La Rue Thomas of Marysville, Ky.

It was announced that the committee on time and place of the next conclave had reported in favor of Pittsburgh. Their action was unanimously ratified, and the time agreed upon is the second Tuesday in October, 1898.

The following officers were then elected: Deputy grand commander, Very Eminent Sir Reuben H. Lloyd of San Francisco; grand generalissimo, Very Eminent Sir Henry B. Stoddard of Texas; grand captain general, Very Eminent Sir George M. Moulton of Illinois; grand senior warden, Very Eminent Sir Henry W. Ragg of Rhode Island; grand junior warden, Very Eminent Sir W. B. Melish of Cincinnati.
 Sir H. Wales Lines of Meriden, Conn., was re-elected grand treasurer. There was a contest for the grand recordership and four ballots were necessary.
 Eminent Sir W. H. May secured the coveted position. Sir Knight May is grand recorder of the Grand commandery of Missouri and resides in St. Louis.
 The appointment of the grand prelate, grand standard bearer, grand warden and grand captain of guard will occur after the installation of the officers-elect.

Red Iron Ore Good For Steel.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 30.—The Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railway company has booked an order from the Carnegie Iron and Steel company of Pittsburgh for 25,000 tons of low silicon or basic iron, manufactured at Alice furnaces in this city. This order was the result of a series of experiments, which have proven incontrovertibly that the common red ore abounding in endless quantities in Alabama, can be easily made into basic iron suitable for conversion into steel.

Thirteen Drowned in Flooded Works in Colorado.

RESCUERS ARE DRIVEN BACK.

The Rising Waters Render Useless Attempts to Aid the Unfortunate—The Disaster Due to a Failure Among Operators to Agree Regarding Pumping.

CENTRAL CITY, Colo., Aug. 30.—The accidental flooding of the American and Sleepy Hollow mines has caused the death, it is believed, of 13 miners. Every effort is being made to rescue the unfortunate men, but little hope is entertained. The water in the lower workings of Fisk mine, east of the main shaft, broke through the old workings of the vein that has not been worked for a number of years. Coursing outward, it struck the Americans where two Italian miners, whose names have not been learned, were at work in the lower part of the shaft. They were both drowned. In its course, the water diverted to the Sleepy Hollow mine, the easterly portion of the Fisk vein. Fourteen men were working in the Sleepy Hollow, three of whom escaped. A courier was sent to the adjacent mines and all their workmen escaped.

Those in the Sleepy Hollow who escape was shut off were as follows: M. Vegas, B. Brocken, Brower Prisk, William Prisk, Thomas E. Prouse, Thomas Williams, M. P. Laconi, Thos. Calbos, J. Harris, S. Valiero and John Parks.

The sounding of the whistle gave the first signal of disaster and soon the shaft building of the Sleepy Hollow mine was so crowded with the families and relatives of the imprisoned miners, and those anxious to render assistance, that it was almost impossible for the work of rescue to proceed.

Deputy Sheriff W. W. Williams finally arrived on the ground, the building was cleared, and practical miners offered their services in lowering the bucket. The farthest depth attained was 330 feet, the accumulated gas forced up by the rising water being such that a candle would not burn at a greater depth. A second effort was made, a larger sized safety lamp having been placed in the bucket. The rescuer who first descended in the bucket, Mr. B. Prisk, was found at the 330 foot level. On reaching the surface he was almost in an insensible condition. Other volunteers went down after-ward, but were not successful in reaching a lower point in the shaft, owing to the rising of the water. Extra water buckets were sent for and brought to the mine, which are now working with a view of lowering the water. The managers of the property were on the ground and were very assiduous in their efforts to relieve the men. The two in the Americans are without doubt dead. Those in the Sleepy Hollow, unless they can be found in some of the slopes, have met death in a similar manner.

Ever since the closing down of the pumps in the incline shaft of the new Gregory Mining company, the waters in that shaft have been gradually rising, the owners of the Fisk mine having been driven out of the lower to the upper workings. This was due to the inability of the owners of the Fisk and Sleepy Hollow to agree upon a plan to pro-rate the drainage.

Even Fighting For Water. HAZLETON, Pa., Aug. 30.—The scarcity of water in this locality is creating more distress daily. The situation in the suburban town has reached such a stage that the people are actually fighting among themselves to secure what little supply there is available. At Morris the New Boston colliery has shut down indefinitely. There is no chance of its resuming until a copious rainfall comes. A peculiar feature of the situation here is the fact that some ignorant persons, believing that fire and smoke had a tendency to draw rain from the clouds, set the mountains on fire, and brush fires are now raging there.

PORTLAND, Or., Aug. 30.—Harry Brown, the well-known comic opera comedian, whose home is in Portland, after years of ill-luck, has obtained a fortune in a peculiar manner. While filling an unprofitable engagement in Cleveland he cured a hitherto incurable melancholia patient, the young son of wealthy parents. The boy was afflicted with suicidal mania and finally saw Brown and laughed for the first time in his life. Brown became young Kellogg's physician and he cured him. When Mrs. Kellogg died recently, she bequeathed a comfortable fortune to Brown.

The Wreck of the Bawnmore.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—Advice from the wreck of the steamer Bawnmore, near Bandon, Or., are that 28 of the crew of 30 were taken off in safety. One of the crew was killed and another fatally injured. The steamer will be a total loss as she is lying on the rocks in a heavy sea, pounding to pieces. The vessel is valued at $125,000 and the cargo at $50,000; some insurance on both.

ST. VINCENT'S BEER AGAIN.

A Second Protest Sent to Mgr. Sattoli, This Time From Buffalo.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The protest against the manufacture and sale of beer by the Benedictines of St. Vincent's abbey of Beatty, Pa., is still under consideration by Archbishop Sattoli. A second protest has been received here, this time from a temperance society of Buffalo, of which Rev. Father Zucher is president. Mgr. Sattoli has sent a letter to the Benedictines referring to the complaints. They have forwarded a response saying that there was no scandal connected with the sale of the beer, which they stated, was done merely to cover the cost of manufacture for their own consumption and the expense of the internal revenue tax.

The total amount manufactured, it was stated, was in the neighborhood of four barrels a week, which they regarded as an insignificant output. The Benedictines announce, however, their readiness to see what can be done in the matter to quiet the criticisms. A second letter has just reached the archbishop in which the Benedictines refer to a pamphlet circulated in Pennsylvania criticising their production of beer and reiterate their attitude already outlined. Mgr. Sattoli has not so far formulated any definite opinion in regard to the matter.

Several Bitten by a Mad Dog.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Aug. 30.—A 3-year-old child of Christian Haas, of South Williamsport, has been nearly killed by a mad dog. The dog knocked the child down and chewed his face, legs and arms so badly that he may die. After being driven away from the child, the dog ran some distance, where a second child was bitten. Later, two Misses Goodbrods were bitten. The canine finally ran into a cellar, where he was shot to death. Several horses and cats were bitten by the animal, before he was killed.

Minister Dun's Mother Dead.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 30.—Mrs. James Dun, mother of Edwin Dun, United States minister to Japan, has died near London, this state. Mrs. Dun was very well and favorably known throughout Central Ohio, her husband being a prosperous farmer. She was a sister of Rear Admiral Henry Walke, who was a midshipman in 1827 and retired in 1871. Mrs. Dun was 75 years of age and was born in Chillicothe, O. She is a close relative of ex-senator Allen G. Thurman.

Building Boats For Chinese Service.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—While pleased with the turn that our diplomatic relations with China has taken and satisfied with the present representation of our navy in the waters of that country, the naval authorities here are still looking forward with eager interest to the completion of the three light draft gunboats now in process of construction at Newport News, Va. These vessels are designed especially for the Chinese service.

Depositions In Gould Case.

WARREN, Ind., Aug. 30.—Plummer & King, the local attorneys who represent George J. Gould in the suit for $40,000 brought against him by Zella Nicolaus, have been notified by the New York lawyers who have charge of Gould's case that depositions will be taken in this city on Sept. 3, beginning at 10 a. m. About 12 or 15 persons will be examined, and all the facts obtainable relating to Zella's life here will be secured.

Won't Flout the Red Flag.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—The red flag which was to grace the procession to be made Labor day in honor of Kier Hardie, the English socialist, will not appear as Mayor Swift has issued positive orders against it being carried through the streets. The mayor ordered Oscar Neebe, Michael Schwab and other socialist leaders brought to the city hall, and warned them against any attempt at display of the socialistic emblem.

The Chinese Minister's Call.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The Chinese minister has made a formal call at the state department, under instructions from his government, and gave the assurance that China is doing all in her power to punish the rioters. He gave substantially the same information concerning the progress of the investigation that was conveyed in these dispatches yesterday.

A Woman Missionary In Trouble.

TROY, Aug. 30.—Amelia A. Haswell, the city missionary accused of aiding in the escape of Trainrobber Oliver Curtis Perry from the Matteawan Insane Asylum Criminal hospital, has been arrested here. She declined to make any statement further than to say that she had no part in the plot.

An old lady on Washington street this morning imagined her pocket-book had been taken, but was assured by her little granddaughter that she had it safe in her hand. The lady explained to the crowd that she had never lost anything yet, and she was too old to begin now.

Among the most novel entertainments ever given in the city the Japanese wedding at the Methodist Protestant church last evening will occupy a prominent place. The ceremony occupied the best part of an hour, and at its close the audience was treated to tea and rice cakes. Every detail of marriage ceremony as the Japanese have it was faithfully carried out, and left a good impression with the audience.

Dr. John Swan and family, who are visiting in this county, are now with friends at Calcutta, but expect next Tuesday to start for their station in China. They go from here to San Francisco and from there to Vancouver, where they take the vessel for Yokohama, and from there to their destination. J. L. Swan, of this city, has exhausted his powers of persuasion in endeavoring to prevent his brother's return, but the doctor professes to believe there will be no danger at his station.

ATLANTIC TEA CO.

The Buffalo Bill Show Will Go On Just
the Same.

It can rain from now until midnight if it so desires, the show will go on just the same. The audience is well protected from the elements, and
the performers have braved
them so often that it matters little what weather is outside.
The program at the evening performance is a change from the afternoon so that all can attend both and see two different bills.

The Buffalo Bill show did not reach town until late this morning, but had an appreciative audience in the rain
to watch the unloading. Blanketed Indians smoking cigarettes stalked
about the lower part of Broadway swearing at the rain and cursing the mud with as much zest as some of their white brethren. The men behaved themselves very well, and worked with the discipline and regularity so often seen in a well regulated show. The park was a damp swamp when they began to pitch their tents but they made it as habitable as possible, and a performance was given this afternoon. The usual program will be carried out this evening, and it seems as though all the city will attend. The show is the best on the road, and is equal to the magnificent performance given by the great scout and his unique aggregation at Chicago.

President Marshall Makes a Statement.

Doctor Marshall believes that the point where the improvement of the East End road is to begin is not set in the public mind, and makes this statement: The starting point is on Thompson hill at the junction of Thompson avenue, Pennsylvania avenue, Robinson street and Ravine street. It does not begin at College street, as some people seem to think. From that point to the school house it is intended to improve provided the people

Railroad Detectives Are in the City Today.

Chief Burr, the man who has gained fame as the head of the detective
force of the Cleveland and Pittsburg, is in town today accompanied by four
men. They are following the show, and have no business here except to keep an eye upon other people who are also following the train. Chief Burr does not propose to have patrons
of the road annoyed or robbed if he can help it, and his force has to the present been successful in keeping down lawlessness.

A Saloon May be in Full Blast Near the Grounds.

East End people have learned that a local saloonist is endeavoring to locate a saloon near Columbian park.
In order to do a rushing business and gather in the shekels on Labor Day.

East End people think it would be an outrage to allow such a move, if they can prevent it and expect the aid of Trades council in working against
it. The law compelling the lessor of ground to pay revenue until next May will go a great ways toward calling a halt.

A BIG FIGHT.

There Were Some Broken Heads at the Show Ground.

Some of the attaches of the show
became involved in a row at the park this morning, and there was a fight of no mean proportions. Some one sent for the police, but it was all over when
the officers arrived and no arrests were made. The combatants settled the matter among themselves in short order, and several heads were broken, but so quickly that no one knew anything of it until peace was again restored.

Interested Elsewhere.

That president of council Doctor Marshall is not giving his entire attention to the new East End road
project at the expense of the balance of the city, is shown by his efforts to have opened two thoroughfares that would be a great benefit to the community. They are Pleasant street leading to the Lisbon road and Avondale street leading to the Calcutta road. The doctor is working hard for these improvements.

Visiting Poor Authorities.

C. D. Filson, poor director, and Superintendent Riddle, of the infirmary, were in town today. The gentlemen say there are a goodly number
in the infirmary at present, the whole
numbering 104, and Liverpool is well represented. The infirmary is in excellent condition, and can hold its own with any similar institution in the state.

Still They Howl.

"The manner in which the Crisis
wing of the Typographical union blows its horn is enough to make a fair-minded man sick with disgust," said a member of the union this morning. "We always maintained that we would not pay a cent for that Lisbon trip because its sole object was the dirty politics controlled by Deldrick,

and we meant it."

Good For Trappe.

A Pittsburg paper sees Trappe in
this way:

"It may be remarked that Trappe,
the bicyclist, is the gamest rider among any of the local Class A men, never shirks hard races, and does not

Business Was Dull.

Outgoing passengers at the local
depot of the Cleveland and Pittsburg railroad were scarce today. Almost everybody stayed at home to see the circus and the crowded platform at each train was caused by visitors.

Six of One, Etc.

Dick Green was before Mayor Gilbert this morning on a charge of disorderly conduct. He showed, however, that he merely indulged in a heated argument with a man as excited as himself, so the mayor let him go.

He Has Resigned.

Bert Gardner, the genial young man who has been clerking in the Eagle Hardware store, has resigned and leaves tomorrow for Atlanta, Ga. Mr.
Gardner has made a host of warm friends during his stay here.

A Breakdown.

Edward Fastbinder, the oil driller,
had a breakdown and a spill on the Lisbon road this morning while on his way to see Buffalo Bill. He was not seriously hurt and "poled" the wagon into the city.

A Bad Washout.

Commissioner Welsh's force were engaged today in putting in a box on Minerva street where a bad washout
made it dangerous for pedestrians.

Before Squire Morley.

John Brindley secured judgment
for $16.50 in Squire Morley's court this afternoon against F. V. Risinger, defendant failing to appear.

A Teachers' Meeting.

Superintendent Sanor requests that all teachers be present at the meeting called for Monday afternoon in Central building at 2:30 o'clock.

Conductors Today.

The street cars were provided with conductors to-day in anticipation of a great crowd being in town.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Miss Davidson, of Mingo, was the guest of friends here today.

—Zed Smith, of Smith's Ferry, was in town today calling on friends.

—Howard Hulings is home from a visit to relatives in Pennsylvania.

—John S. Mason, of Pittsburg, called on friends in the city this morning.

—Miss Mamie House returned this morning from a visit in New York city.

—Solicitor Clark was able to be out today after an illness of a week or more.

—Miss Maggie Nixon is the guest of her sister, Mrs. James Johnson, Basil avenue.

—Frank Gass, who has been visiting his brother, W. H. Gass, returned home yesterday morning.

—Howard Elverson, of New Brighton, who has been visiting friends here, returned home yesterday.

—Frank Robbins and Mr. Thompson, of Salineville, are seeing Buffalo Bill and visiting Ross Robbins.

—Barney Anderson returned this morning from Smith's Ferry to join the soldiers at the state encampment.

—Miss Gertrude Nace, of Lisbon who
for some time has been visiting her cousin, Miss Anna Myers, left for her home Wednesday evening.

—Reverend Boettel, of Mansfield, will be the guest of Reverend Reinartz and fill the pulpit at the German Lutheran church on Sunday.

—Dr. S. G. Bigelow, of Silver Lake, Ind., is visiting Captain Myers and family, Fifth street. The doctor was a member of Captain Myers' company
during the war, and 35 years ago practiced medicine in Wellsville.

IT ANNOYED HIM.

He Came From the West and Was Pus-tled That New Yorkers Knew It.

His coat was a trifle too long and his trousers an inch too wide at the knee to
be strictly and exactly fashionable; but,
aside from these nice discriminations,
he was dressed according to the dictates
of the fashion autocrats.

We took the "L" together at Park
place, and I noticed a puzzled expression, half amusement, half annoyance, on his face. At Thirty-third street he surrendered his seat to an elderly woman and stood in the aisle in front of where I sat. It was evident that he was anxious to tell some one of the subjects
on his mind, so I was not surprised when he caught my eye and opened the conversation.

"Just now," he said, "as I was hurrying to the station, a man caught hold of my arm and stopped me. He was a respectable looking fellow, well clothed, and wore a grayish beard parted in the middle.

"I've been on a drunk," the man said to me, "and I am sobering up. I live in Hackensack, and I want to get home. I haven't a cent and want a quarter."

"I looked him over carefully," continued my chance acquaintance, "concluded he was telling the truth and gave him the money. As I hurried on, he shouted after me:

"I knew you were from the west,
and I knew you would give me the money.
They are white out there!"

"Now, what I want to know," said
my acquaintance, "is how did he know
I was from the west? It's true, but how did he know it? Would you know it?
Am I marked? Have I any tag on me to tell others that I am a westerner?"

"None that I know of," I assured him, "unless it be such little things as giving your seat up to ladies. That generally indicates that a man is not a native New Yorker."

I got out at Fiftieth street and left him with the same quizzical expression as if the question had been only half answered.—New York Journal.

DRINK WITH MEALS.

Liquid Food an Aid to Digestion, and Cold
Drinks Refresh Heated Persons.

The incessant adjuration not to drink
with meals we have always held the reverse of truth from theory and from experience. The latter is that dry meals cause heartburn, the former shows that splitting up the meal of solid food with liquid acts precisely like splitting logs
of wood into kindling for the fire, giving
the digestive fluid easy access to the small particles, instead of sizzling and making gas on the outside of a wad of thick paste. And the talk of diluting the gastric juice is nonsense, because the surplus fluid drains quickly through the stomach. Better drink too much than too little.

We are glad now to be re-enforced by an English sporting man, Mr. Horace Hayes, who says that drinking nothing during or for an hour and a half after meals is the best of ways to train down weight, but he cannot do it because it always brings on rheumatism—probably from the solid food producing overconcentrated salts in the circulation, and consequent deposits in the muscular fiber. The same writer says that the notion about animals being injured by giving them a drink when heated is a stupid
and cruel piece of barbarism; that it only does them harm when the drink is very cold, by producing nervous shocks
as it would to a man, while if the chill is taken off it first, it refreshes a heated horse to take a good drink just as it does a heated human being.—Travelers' Record.

We Are Slaves to Greed.

If to be free is to live in a country
(the United States) where you are in mortal dread of the press and the police, where you are heartily ashamed of having any one connected with you engaged in politics, where corruption reigns in every department of the government and the municipalities, where
the only aristocracy is that of wealth and not of honor, and where the liberal professions are all counted lower than Wall street, where, in effect, men are
the veritable slaves of greed and gain, why, give me the old fashioned slavery
of the old country and the domination
of some recognized house which is at least the fountain of honor.

One doesn't have to apologize in England for going to court, but it seems a necessity in America if one is in any way connected with the White House.
When I first came here, I thought a member of the house of representatives held a position at least analogous to the average member of parliament. I find,
on the contrary, he is about as much esteemed as an outside broker on the Stock Exchange, and for much the same reasons.—Temple Bar.

Marriage of the Adriatic.

"The Marriage of the Adriatic" was instituted in commemoration of a naval victory won by Sebastian Zlati, doge of Venice, over Otto, son of Frederick Barbarossa, 1174. In consequence of this victory Pope Alexander III, who had been driven to take refuge in Venice, gave to the doge the sovereignty of the sea, and every year the doge used to go in grand procession in his state barge
and throw a gold ring into the Adriatic, saying, "With this ring I wed thee."
Flowers were then thrown into the sea,
and the procession returned. The sentence delivered by the doge on the occasion was literally, "Desponsamus te Mare nostrum in signum veri perpetuque domini."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Animals That Commit Suicide.

Intelligent observers have testified to facts which appear to show that in certain circumstances the snake, scorpion
and even some quadrupeds commit suicide. M. Henry, a clock manufacturer of Longnyon, France, has recently described an experiment of the kind which he made with a wasp. The wasp was imprisoned under a glass, and knowing that benzine asphyxiates insects he put

The Scholars of France.

As a sample of the payment of distinguished scholars in this country it may be mentioned that M. Gaston Boissier, who was lately elected life secretary of the Academy, only received $8000 annually as rector of the College de France.
In his new position he is entitled to $1-200, or double the sum paid him as head of the great educational establishment over which Ernest Renan ruled. The immortals, according to the foundation rules, are supposed to be paid $3000 yearly, in addition to their fees for attending meetings. As a matter of fact, however, they only receive $2000 annually.
The remainder of the sum forms a sinking fund, out of which eight aged academicians get allowances, if their private annual income falls short of $1,200.—

Although Edwin Milton Royle's new play, "Mexico," will depend for success entirely upon the dramatic strength of its story and the interest of its character drawing, the production will rival in scenes, picturesqueness and effect any of the dramas that have nothing but the spectacular to recommend them. Mr. Mayerhofer, the famous German electrician who had charge of the great spectacle "Urania," is preparing for "Mexico" a number of unique effects, including among other things a thunderbolt which is used to shatter a certain tower with visible and literally striking effect.

TWO ENTERTAINMENTS.

One Performance on the Stage, the Other
In the Audience.

I attended a recent performance given by some amateur actors and actresses—
very good they were, too—and while I enjoyed the stage entertainment I was not unmindful of the one that was in progress directly behind me.

It was furnished by an old lady and two young ones—when I say "young ones" I don't mean children—and its beginning antedated the overture in this style:

"Can you read the programme, mother?"

"Why, yes; but it must be wrong.
Here's Annie's name down, and it says she's a servant. I thought you said she was an actress."

"Only a servant in the play, mother."

"But that seems a kind of mean thing to play. She doesn't have to do that,
goodness knows!"

"She has to play whatever they give her to play. She's a beginner, you know."

"Well, I wouldn't begin that way."

"Annie" appeared presently.

She said, "Yes, my lady," and "No,
your lordship," and "I will tell her ladyship that you are here," and a few more stammers of that sort very well, I thought.

But when the French count with the pointed beard chucks her under the chin
I could hear the old lady behind me getting into a fine rage.

"Well, the idea of our Annie letting
a man do a thing like that!"

"But, mother, that's in the play."

"I don't care if it is. I suppose he'll kiss her later on! The idea!"

Well, he did kiss her shortly after and got a good slap in the face for his pains.

"Good, good!" she cried in a very audible voice.

"I thought Annie wouldn't stand anything of that sort!"

She objected to the young girl's little love affairs with the footman, however,
and could hardly be kept in her chair
when the two plighted their troth.

"I don't call that play acting," she said. "They were just like two servants, and I don't like it."

When the curtain dropped, they all went around to the stage door, and somehow I felt sorry for Annie, coming from the stage full of hot enthusiasm, only to receive—mentally at least—a bucket of cold water.—Polly Pry in New York Recorder.

THE SICKROOM NURSE.

Her Duties, Her Authority and Her Powers For Evil or Good.

No person has greater power for evil or for good than has the nurse in the sickroom. Her actual authority is second to that of the physician, but her opportunities for exercising it are almost unlimited. If a physician in a country town wishes to secure a trained nurse, he should telegraph or write to the nurses' directory, to some hospital or physician whom he knows, in the nearest adjacent city, stating for what sort of a case he will require a nurse, what he will pay and when he will require her. Such a message should secure for him almost immediately whatever service he requires.

ENORMOUS IS THE FREIGHT

The various committees of the Cincinnati chamber of commerce having having in charge the proposed improvement of the Ohio river are busy men these days, and it is hoped their work will not come to naught.

A vast amount of literature is being prepared and sent out each week to the country directly affected by the improvement of the river with the hope that Cincinnati will not be compelled to fight the battle alone. Special reports have been prepared, and among them can be found valuable information dealing with the river and its navigable tributaries. The Ohio river system floated in 1889 vessels to the number of 6,245 having a tonnage of 2,920,468 and valued at $8,696,341 which is more than double the amount credited to the Mississippi. The number of passengers carried exceeded 9,000,000, and the freight was over 16,000,000 while the number of miles traveled was over 3,000,000. Taking the whole Mississippi system it is found that 51.5 per cent of the freight handled was on the Ohio, and about two-thirds of that amount represented the commerce proper of the Ohio river. The government engineers furnish information for the year ending Dec. 31, 1893, which shows that 7,371,804 tons of freight were moved on the Ohio, exclusive of what came from its navigable tributaries. If to this is added a large movement of logs, lumber, railroad ties, etc., towed and rafted merchandise, and produce moved on flatboats and trading boats, the aggregate will be increased by no less than 1,500,000 tons. The Ohio proper is navigable for a distance of 967 miles, and with its tributaries, 2,894 miles, one of the finest river systems on the face of the earth. The Ohio traverses the very heart of the country's area of productive industry, and the states bordering on it have a population of 20,000,000 souls.

From the literature sent out by the committee it is learned that the work of improving the river is in charge of a government officer of engineers, whose expenditures are restricted to the amount appropriated by congress for the purpose. The task is divided into three distinct branches, in keeping the channel free from obstructions by means of the snag boat now tied up at this city, freeing the channel from accretions of gravel by means of dredging machines, and in creating uniform depth of channel by dams. The work of the snag boat is limited in its efficiency by reason of the restricted appropriation. The $25,000 allowed every year is insufficient to maintain the boat in commission the entire year, and at least double that sum should be available for that purpose. This matter is not governed by changes of every congress, but is made permanent by the act of 1890 which created the work. The value of the service can not be lightly estimated, and the work of the boat in removing wrecks and obstructions has done much to enhance safety in navigation of the Ohio, particularly in low water.

The most expensive work of improvement and protection to navigation is that of dykes and dams. No single year's appropriation would be sufficient to complete the work which is practically in this direction. The committee is assured that by a comprehensive system of this character a uniform depth of not less than six feet in the center of the channel can be secured. The statistics in the hands of the committee demonstrate the volume of tonnage passing down the Ohio annually to be greater than is born upon any navigable water in America, excepting only such rivers as form connecting links in the chain of great lakes over which all interstate commerce must pass. The amounts appropriated toward the improvement of the Ohio have been in time past insignificant compared to the sum devoted to the Missouri, and Mississippi. The latest report of Colonel Stickney shows that the river has been allowed since 1827, the first appropriation, $5,329,479, while the Great Kanawha, one of his tributaries has been given over

$3,000,000 and the Muskingum, another tributary got over a million. Pittsburgh alone sent to Cincinnati and Louisville by the river over 21,000,000 tons of coal in ten years, and the trade is growing with every year. The losses by collision with bridges amount to almost half a million dollars a year, and other damage runs the amount to a much larger sum.

In summing up its duty the committee expresses the belief that the best method to reach the congressional ear is to show all these things to the congressmen who represent the states bordering on the river at the meeting to be held in October, and a collection be raised for the prosecution of the work. The best way to obtain recognition is to have the chief of engineers of the army embody in his report a recommendation for an appropriation, and this part has moved forward to where Colonel Stickney has asked $1,000,000 to push the improvement next year. The committee also wants the plan presented in ship shape condition to the river and harbor improvement committee when congress meets next winter. Liverpool should play an important part in the movement for it means great things for this city and its industry.

The Crockery Trade Is Getting Better Every Week.

The Trenton correspondent of China, Glass and Lamps sees the situation in this light:

"The fall trade has fairly opened in at least some of the potteries, and the general feeling in this locality is one of encouragement. The orders which are being received, although not generally large, are fairly numerous, and the travelers who have returned from their first trips say that the indications are encouraging all along the line. The fact that the orders are usually small is not in itself a sign, nor is it one which ought to discourage the manufacturer. It indicates a feeling among dealers that goods are needed. It shows that they want to buy. But it also shows that full confidence in the market has not been restored. As the effects of the renewed business activity begin to be felt, however, this feeling will soon wear off, and manufacturers may confidently expect longer orders in the near future."

In New York the big jobbers and retailers see trade through glasses throwing this reflection:

"While business is steadily upon the increase, and the predictions so freely made for the fall trade seem likely to be realized in a few weeks' time, still the conservatism which has prevailed for the past three years is yet felt. Those retailers who err in the direction of over-cautiousness in failing to buy now according to the requirements of their stock, may find later that they have exemplified the old penny wise—pound foolish. The prices of both foreign and domestic goods have been pressed down to the lowest notch. It is proven by experience that they can not long remain stationary. Who then can doubt that an advance in prices is in store for us before long? The increase may not be a material one, but, nevertheless, the buyer who miscalculates his requirements and is forced to replenish will find he has been mistaken in his forecast."

TESTED THE SWEEPER.

Agent Hershey Replied to It Yesterday Evening—Trial Tuesday.

The street sweeper was taken by law from the local freight office yesterday evening by Agent Hershey, and was tested by Commissioner Welch.

The sweeper was seized by Constable Lyon after Mr. Hershey had begun an action in replevin in Squire Rose's court and the case will be tried on Tuesday. Mr. Hershey claims damages amounting to more than the freight on the machine.

Councilmen Stewart, Owen, Peake and Challis saw the sweeper as it was tested from the railroad to the Horn switch along Broadway and down East Market street, through the Diamond to Fifth. It worked satisfactorily.

COMING AND GOING.

Families Are Moving Here and Others Are Going Away.

Carl St. Clair moved here from Uhrichsville, and George Morton shipped his effects to Salem. Mrs. Mary Weaver had her goods sent to Carnegie, and Edward Webster shipped his to Louisville, Ky. Charles Candell sent his effects to Parkersburg, and W. H. Miller had his sent to Cadiz. The show occupied so much space at the depot that little business was done in the freight department.

Our Boys Could Not Win at the Lisbon Races.

MONEY TO BACK TOM YORK

There Was a Lot of It There If the County Seat People Had Taken It—Trappe Got a Pair Of Seconds and Hale Was Very Much In Evidence.

The bicycle enthusiasts who went to see the races in Lisbon yesterday came home in the rain last night and this morning, and a madder set of men would be hard to find upon the foot-stool.

They had been cheated out of the races, and they didn't like it. York, the pride of the road riders, had gone down before what the Liverpool people believed was a dirty piece of juggling, and Trappe had never won a chance on the track. Hale did not get a first, and Irons was cheated out of his laurels by rain. It was a hard day for Liverpool, and the rain made the roads so miserable that it was a weary, disgusted crowd who came home in the evening or during the pitchy darkness of the night.

People who saw the road race and who were given the time immediately on its completion, can not understand why Bonnell, the Hubbard rider, was given first time prize. When the word was given York started at a good pace, and as he passed up the hill Jack Harris ran into the road, and asked him if he would have a drink. At that moment York did not want refreshments, and the Liverpool man left him to continue the journey. In 10 minutes someone had entered a protest that York had been pushed up the hill, and was therefore out of the race. Many Liverpool people saw the action, and, knowing there was no truth in the protest, began to kick. As one man they protested against such treatment, and the officers of the race wisely refrained from considering the protest. But they had another way to kill him, and they did it easily. There was a juggling of time either through error or intent which gave him second place. When Bonnell, the winner, crossed the scratch at the Hostetter house York was at the court house, and he could have made the distance, and his friends claim did make it, in much less than the timers allowed. When the decision was announced there was a great crowd of Liverpool people at the hotel, and when some Lisbon man ventured the opinion that York was an over rated rider and was no good any more there was war. Money flashed on every side, and $500 was raised in as many minutes to back the assertion that he could beat any man in Lisbon a 10 mile race over any track in the county. That settled York's supremacy as far as another race is concerned, and nothing more was heard about betting. Bonnell, the winner, is a great rider, but the people who ought to know say that he can not enter the same class with York.

At the track races in the afternoon there was more fun. The track was so slow that the riders refused to accept 2:35 as the limit, and compelled the officers to advance it five seconds. The half-mile handicap was won by Smith, who had a good start over Trappe, on the scratch. In spite of the heavy handicap Trappe finished almost neck and neck with him, and Hale was only a short distance in the rear. It was a pretty finish, and if the track had been in good condition Liverpool would have won that first easily. Aughenbaugh won the mile open, Trappe second, Steel third, and Hale fourth. The time was 2:33 3-5, and the riders worked hard for victory. Rain prevented the carrying out of the program, as some exciting contests were promised. Experiences by the score marked the return of the Liverpool contingent, the darkness being so dense that cutting it with a knife was an easy task if all the stories be true. The Liverpool riders declare it was impossible for them to ride with everything as it was against them.

It has been decided to have the meet continued some date in October, and the prizes not won yesterday will be held over until that time. The club will add a few more contests to the list, and expect a large number of entries.

READY FOR CAMP.

Company E Boys Will Leave Tomorrow For Newark.

Last night Company E had their final drill in the rink and a large crowd watched the movements of the soldier boys under instruction from Captain Supplee. The boys were in heavy marching order and were drilled in saluting and unsaluting of

knap sacks, stacking arms, company drill, etc. All the knapsacks have been packed with blankets and other necessities and the boys will fill their haversacks with eatables this evening to be in readiness. The new canteens present a neat appearance and other improvements have been added in the way of iron racks for cooking and a larger mess outfit.

The passenger and baggage coaches arrived today and were sidetracked for the 8:56 train, which the soldiers will take for Steubenville tomorrow morning, and going over the Panhandle, will reach Newark at 1:30 o'clock.

Private Joe Davis and Corporal Will Kinsey, who have been working in Cleveland, arrived home yesterday to attend the encampment.

A BROKEN BOTTLE

Causes Harry Peplin's Little Son to Lose a Finger.

The five-year-old son of Harry Peplin met with painful injuries as a result of handling a broken bottle yesterday afternoon on Elm street.

The youngster was playing about the yard when he picked up a bottle and attempted to throw it. The index finger of his right hand caught in a hole in the side of the bottle and the end was sliced off, the bone being exposed. The youngster suffered intense pain, and became weak from the loss of blood. He was taken to the office of Dr. F. M. Laughlin, and he and Doctor McVoy chloroformed the lad and by a neat operation took off the finger this afternoon.

Business Men Will Try To Push Early Closing Along.

There was a goodly attendance of business men at the meeting in the Y. M. C. A. rooms last evening, and the question of closing at 6 o'clock during the year was thoroughly discussed. Every merchant present with possibly one exception favored the move, and a committee was appointed to see all the business men and endeavor to persuade them in the right direction. A prominent merchant expressed the belief this morning that the move would fall through because a few would not consent to the innovation. It must be all or none for merchants will not allow one to have an advantage.

TWO WEDDINGS

Solemnized in the City Yesterday Afternoon and Evening.

Mr. Thomas Hayden and Miss Iva Garen were married at the home of the bride yesterday evening by Doctor Taggart, of the First United Presbyterian church, in the presence of a few friends. The happy couple have the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

Mr. Thomas A. Davis, of Allegheny, and Miss Maude E. Whitehill, of Fredericktown, were married at the parsonage by Doctor Taggart yesterday afternoon, and took the train for Allegheny, where they will reside.

HUMPHRIES AGAIN.

Thomas Once More Charged With Being Disorderly.

Mrs. George Bolton called at the mayor's office last night, and for the second time entered a complaint of disorderly conduct against Thomas Humphries. She claimed that Thomas had been throwing stones at her house, and using language that is against the law. Thomas was notified by the police to appear, and tell the mayor all about it tomorrow. He denies that he did anything wrong, and says that he will not allow any one to punish him if he can help it. He will probably stand trial.

TRIAL NEXT WEEK.

Harrison Rinehart's Case Prosecuted—A Jury Asked For.

The complaint against Harrison Rinehart for allowing his wagons to remain in the alley near his stable at Jackson square will in all probability be tried next week. The defendant has asked for a jury trial, but as there is no imprisonment attached to the penalty it is not likely that a jury will be allowed. Solicitor Clark and his opponent will argue a motion for jury. Trial before the mayor tomorrow.

ON SUNDAY

The Mayor Will Order All Unnecessary Work Suspended.

Mayor Gilbert has decided to issue the order governing the closing of soda water fountains, cigar stands and other places where unnecessary labor is performed. The societies who urged the mayor to take this step are preparing to collect evidence for the prosecution of those who do not obey, but it is believed that the order will be very generally obeyed in all parts of the city.

TOUCHED HIM EARLY

James Watt, of Ohioville, Lost His Pocketbook.

TWO SUSPECTS WERE DETAINED

In spite of repeated warnings to keep an eye open for pickpockets James Watt, of Ohioville, lost his pocketbook before he had been in the city ten minutes this morning.

Watt was about to leave the morning train from the east when he felt some one touching his pockets. Instinctively he knew he was in a bad crowd, and made an effort to get away, but there was a crush, and when he did get out his pocketbook containing a $20 bill was gone. He at once reported the case to the police, and Chief Gill and Officer Meador began to look for suspects. All the force are at work today, and the town was so well covered that the police soon located a young man and a woman believed to be his wife. Watt thought he recognized them as being near him when his money was stolen and the pair were detained. The man was taken to city hall and locked up and the woman was detained at the Thompson House until more evidence could be secured.

The man gave his name as William Weiber and his residence as Pittsburgh. At a conference with the police Watt was unable to state positively that the accused had taken his money, but expressed the belief, when Detective Shiffer said he had seen three persons in the crowd, that some one had taken his money, and then passed it on to another.

This afternoon the stranger and his wife wilted and gave Watt $25 for their release, although denying the theft. Mr. Watt presented the police with the extra $5 for their services.

ADJUSTORS HERE.

Insurance Men Looking Over the Liverpool Plant.

Edward Stanberry, of Cincinnati, N. T. Julian, of Columbus, and J. R. Vernon, of Salem, representing fire insurance companies in which the East Liverpool pottery was insured are in the city today.

They are looking over the portion of the East Liverpool Pottery company's plant damaged by fire this week. They expect to finish their work and adjust the loss by tomorrow morning.

TO LISBON TOMORROW.

George Heckathorn Will Be Taken Overland.

George Heckathorn, the youth who delights in pistol practice on the streets, will be taken to Lisbon tomorrow, and will there be given a sentence by Judge Young. If he is sent to jail for a few months he will make another addition to the Liverpool colony controlled by Sheriff Lodge. The other principals in that little body are Pat Densmore and Mrs. Barcus, both charged with serious crimes.

NO SAGGARS.

Potters Think It Is a Great Scheme For Making Ware.

It is said that well-known potters have decided to make let ware which can be fired without the use of saggars, and a company will be formed for the purpose of building a plant. The details of the plan are not made known, but it is said that the scheme has been thoroughly tested, and found to be successful. It has often been tried, but until the present time has met with little success.

D. J. SMITH ILL.

He Is Suffering From Typhoid Fever At His Home.

D. J. Smith, perhaps the best known farmer of the county, is confined to his home at Mt. Pisgah by a severe attack of typhoid fever. The gentleman has been ill for several days and word was brought to the city last night that he was in a dangerous condition, his life being despaired of. It is sincerely hoped that the report is exaggerated as Mr. Smith has many friends in this city.

A FATAL VISIT.

A Salem Man Died While On a Pleasure Trip.

Special to the News Review.
LISBON, Aug. 30.—Three weeks ago William H. Morlan accompanied by his wife and child came to visit at the residence of Mrs. Albright, north of town. They were seized with typhoid fever, and Morlan died last night. Word from there this morning says that Mrs. Morlan is in a dying condition and it will be impossible for her to recover.

COKEY made a speech in Chicago the other day in which he promised his hearers that he would be the next governor of Ohio. As a romantic Cokey stands head and shoulders above the partisans of any party.

MR. CAMPBELL dropped into Cincinnati the other day, and told the newspapers that this was to be a campaign on state issues. Evidently the Hamilton statesman can not afford to shoulder the mistakes of Cleveland and his crew, incidentally explaining why Brice killed the Wilson bill.

A DEMOCRATIC VIEW.

John R. McClain who owns a rabid free silver paper in Cincinnati, and operates an equally radical gold journal in New York, has this to say of existing conditions:

"Brice took Ohio easy. The administration forces were too much for the gentlemen without fodder. Can't beat patronage. More than that Brice is a very able man. Doesn't let his matters drift. Attends to them himself. Never sends a boy to the mill. The results have been well known for two weeks. Now the sterner part of the struggle begins. It's Democratic Brice against Republican Foraker. That's a real fight. Can Brice overcome the tremendous majorities that the Republicans have had for the last two years in Ohio? He knows just how many guns Foraker carries and just about what Foraker will do, and Foraker has got a right good line on Brice. It will be two strong men going against each other. Of course the campaign is going to cost Senator Brice a pretty penny, but politics is his fad, don't seem to care for the horses, or yachts or anything like that, and he will spend his money where it gives him most pleasure. He will find no difficulty in getting rid of it in politics."

Mr. McClain neglected to remember that the great mass of Ohio people are with Mr. Foraker. The shining gold of Colonel Brice will buy some, but it can not buy them all.

Altgeld Holding Back The Money.

PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 30.—The last legislature appropriated $1,200 for a new monument to Governor Thomas Ford, whose remains lie in Springfield cemetery at Peoria, but Governor Altgeld refuses to allow the money to be used until citizens of Peoria have raised $50 to see that the lot is taken care of.

Altgeld on Quay's Victory.

ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 30.—Governor Altgeld of Illinois, when passing through this city, in conversation with your correspondent, said that in his opinion the victory of Senator Quay in Pennsylvania is a severe rebuke to corporations.

San Francisco, Aug. 30.—The work of completing a jury to try Theodore Corbett has been ended by the acceptance of Samuel P. Dutton, a wholesale steamship. Both sides joined in a request for an adjournment until Monday. The court granted the request.

DEMOCRATS' CAMPAIGN

It Will Likely Be Opened September 15.

An Executive Committee Chosen at a Conference at Columbus to Manage the Campaign—General Anderson, of Greenville, Is Named as the Chairman.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 30.—The Democratic state central committee has met and elected the following executive committee to manage the campaign: General C. M. Anderson, Greenville, chairman; J. A. Norton of Tiffin, J. P. Seward of Mansfield, George W. McCook of Steubenville, John Van Fleet of Kenton, B. W. Layton of Wapakoneta, J. J. McMaken of Hamilton, William Beatty of Toledo and F. J. Reinhard of Columbus.

The time and place of opening the campaign was left to the executive committee, but the consensus of opinion was that it should be about Sept. 15.

Colored Knights Elect Officers.

Bad Feeling Over "Belling."

ELYRIA, O., Aug. 30.—J. B. Thompson of West View, a brother to ex-Mayor Thompson of Lorain, has caused the arrest of Thomas Williams, Ambrose Bennett and William Fietzler, who it is alleged gave Thompson a "belling" a few nights ago, supposing that he had just been married. Thompson secured a divorce from his wife here a few weeks ago under sensational circumstances. He denies that he has been remarried. The men arrested were brought before a justice here, and bound over in the sum of $300 each. West View in badly torn up over the matter.

Cleveland Breweries to Combine.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 30.—It is said that negotiations have been in progress here for several days past looking toward the combination of all the breweries in this city. It is claimed that it is not the intention to raise the price on beer, but to do away with the backing now extended to saloonists by the brewers, which consumes a large percentage of the latter's profits.

A Panic at Canton.

CANTON, O., Aug. 30.—During a cloudburst here, with the wind blowing a gale, one section of the canvass of Buffalo Bill's Wild West show was torn away, and a panic ensued, which was suppressed by the attendants. Thousands of people were soaked with rain. Nobody was badly hurt.

Cokey Says He Will Win.

ZANESVILLE, O., Aug. 30.—J. S. Cokey, Populist candidate for governor, passed through here on his way to Fairview, to address the Penderoy reunion. Two car seats were filled with his published addresses. He said that the contest had harrowed down to himself and General Bushnell. Campbell was not in it. He thinks he will win.

Burglars Shoot a Clerk.

NELSONVILLE, O., Aug. 30.—Burglars attacked the hardware store of Cable & Co., and broke through a window, but were met by several watchmen who were expecting the burglars. Several shots were fired. The burglars escaped, but James Knight, a clerk in the store, was fatally shot in the head.

Shot at a "Peeping Tom."

PORTSMOUTH, O., Aug. 30.—A "Peeping Tom" is causing considerable excitement in the eastern portion of the city. He was shot at by John Cunningham, and it is believed the shot took effect, as blood was found on the sidewalk.

SMALL OHIO HAPPENINGS.

Springfield is to have a new high school building. Mrs. Samuel Border of Hascom gave birth to triplets. All are boys and are doing well.

There was a costly freight wreck near North Amherst, on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railway. No lives lost.

The Baptist association composed of the counties of Adams, Fayette, Clinton, Highland and Ross, is holding its annual session at Wilmington.

Alex Seymour, the Covington contractor who thought he had been robbed of $20 in Portsmouth, found his pocketbook containing the amount in the lining of his coat, where he had hid it.

Governor McKinley appointed E. G. Coffin of Springfield, W. J. Akers and G. D. Patterson of Cleveland to represent Ohio at the annual congress of the National Prison association at Denver, Sept. 14-18.

Secretary of State Taylor has received official notice that the executive committee of the People's party has filled the vacancy on their ticket by selecting Charles Bonnell of Columbia county as the candidate for state auditor.

Samuel McGaw, James Matthews, Frank Matthews and Richard Flannery, well-known Twin Creek farmers, who are charged with having attempted to white wash Henry Garding, an old and somewhat disreputable citizen, have been arrested.

Bowling Bros., owners of a Springfield commission fruit house, are out $75 at the hands of a commercial traveler calling himself E. M. Miller of New York, who persuaded them to let him handle their goods in addition to his own goods. He collected the money and kept it.

Mabel G. Lasure has brought suit against Policemen George Bridgman, John Corrigan and Allen M. Nettleton, members of the Dayton police force, to recover damages in the sum of $5,000. The suit is based on a raid made by the above officers a few nights ago, and the arrest and confinement in the stationhouse of Miss Lasure on suspicion.

A ROW AMONG "ANGELS."

Two of Schweinfurth's Followers Appear in a Strange Case in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Carl Nicholson, the 19-year-old son of a prominent college professor of Denmark, has played Trilby at a criminal court trial here and told of his experience with a female evangelist in "Messiah" Schweinfurth's "Heaven," at Rockford, Ill., Miss Minnie Eller, who was once an "angel" at Rockford, but is now a clerk in a Chicago department store, had caused the young Dane's arrest, charging him with the theft of her watch. Nicholson countered with the charge that Miss Eller had hypnotized him while he was a brother angel at Rockford.

He was so thoroughly under her influence his attorney declared, that when Miss Eller left the "Heaven" he could not endure her absence and came to Chicago to secure her return, taking her watch as a pledge that she would again join the "angel" band. The case was compromised, after the trial began and an attempt will be made by attorneys to have the Denmark relatives of the lad prosecute Schweinfurth who, with Miss Eller, is charged with almost wrecking his mind.

FRANKFORD, Ind., Aug. 30.—Montana Kid, Rio Grande Bill and Prairie Skip, all members of Irvin's Wild West show, have been arrested at the fairground, on complaint of the Fair association, for trespassing. The Kid resisted, and Policeman Bury was jerked from a pony and hurt. Revolvers were drawn, and the Kid looked like somebody would be killed. Prairie Skip attempted to shoot Bury, but Officer Welty got a drop on her and compelled her to change her mind.

A Proclamation to Republicans.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—The National Republican League has issued a proclamation to all state leagues, league clubs and the Republican party at large. The proclamation says that in view of the probable shortening of the next Presidential campaign, it is important that all work of organization shall be started at once and pushed in the most energetic manner.

Spofford Makes a Report.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Librarian of Congress Spofford has forwarded to the treasury department a statement of his accounts covering a period of several years. The report specifies moneys received and disbursed for library and copyright purposes up to Aug. 1 last. The figures will not be given out pending the action of the department on the report.

Verdict in a Building Disaster.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The jury in the Ireland building inquest has returned a verdict placing the responsibility for the collapse on John H. Parker, contractor; Thomas Walker and Thomas Murray, foremen; Charles R. Behrens, architect; Edward J. Youdale and Dennis E. Buckley, building inspectors. The jury exonerated Joseph Guider.

Murderer Heir to a Fortune.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—An escaped murderer, Parker Pearson Valentine, who was last heard of in Colorado, is the heir to about $100,000 worth of property left him by his mother, Lucy A. Valentine, who died in Wisconsin recently. Valentine left Minneapolis to escape arrest for murder 25 years ago.

WILL SEE CLEVELAND.

Hawaiians Will Urge Annexation When Congress Meets.

By Congressman Hilborn, of California. To Study the Situation in the Islands. Native Largely in Favor of Closer Political Relations With England.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Colonel MacFarlane, former aide de camps to the late King Kalakaua, has just arrived in London. In an interview, he said that he was informed that a few Hawaiian politicians and merchants who favored the old form of government would wait upon President Cleveland when congress reassembles to urge the annexation of the Sandwich Islands. The primary object, he said, would be to test the sincerity of the officials of the Hawaiian republic. A large number of Americans, he remarked, had joined the Republican party in Hawaii, it being generally understood that the existing republic in the Sandwich Islands provided only for a temporary government until annexation to the United States could be arranged.

The present officials having been in office a year or more and no special effort having been made to attain this end, the Americans in Honolulu are dubious respecting the intentions of the present Hawaiian republic, hence the projected application to the United States government for annexation. Congressman Samuel G. Hilborn of California recently visited Honolulu, and Colonel MacFarlane says that he will urge in congress the necessity of sending a commission for the purpose of studying the situation there.

In conclusion, Colonel MacFarlane explains that Mr. Cleghorn, the father of Princess Kaiulani, is now en route for England, accompanied by ex-Consul Wodehouse. It is believed that one of the objects of their visit is to present to the British government a full and detailed account of the situation in the Hawaiian Islands and the causes that led to the overthrow of the monarchy there. The natives, he thought, were not wholly opposed to the policy of annexation to the United States. Still, failing to bring about the restoration of the monarchy to which they naturally incline, they would really prefer annexation to Great Britain. Of course, the American commercial influence is in the ascendant, but the British influence is also large.

Colonel MacFarlane favored a permanent republic or else a permanent restoration of the monarchy, the best elements of both parties forming a coalition for the support of the government. Failing such coalition, annexation to the United States would be the most advantageous commercially, but there is no doubt that if a test vote were taken, the natives, who constitute a majority, would vote largely in favor of closer political relations with England.

The Dogs Are After Him.

BLUFFTON, Ind., Aug. 30.—A posse of men and two bloodhounds from Van Buren are hot in pursuit of William Blangley, the proprietor of a quart-shop in the southern part of the county, who fired the contents of his revolver into the body of Carey Bell, a common laborer of Dillman, Ind. Blangley's motive for the deed was revenge, Bell having beaten him in a fight a few nights previous.

PERISHED IN MINES.

Thirteen Drowned in Flooded Works in Colorado.

RESCUERS ARE DRIVEN BACK.

The Rising Waters Render Useless Attempts to Aid the Unfortunate—The Disaster Due to a Failure Among Operators to Agree Regarding Pumping.

CENTRAL CITY, Colo., Aug. 30.—The accidental flooding of the Americans and Sleepy Hollow mines has caused the death, it is believed, of 13 miners. Every effort is being made to rescue the unfortunate men, but little hope is entertained. The water in the lower workings of Fisk mine, east of the main shaft, broke through the old workings of the vein that has not been worked for a number of years. Coursing eastward, it struck the Americans where two Italian miners, whose names have not been learned, were at work in the lower part of the shaft. They were both drowned. In its course, the water diverted to the Sleepy Hollow mine, the easterly portion of the Fisk vein. Fourteen men were working in the Sleepy Hollow, three of whom escaped. A carrier was sent to the adjacent mines and all their workmen escaped.

Those in the Sleepy Hollow who escaped were shut off were as follows: M. Vegas, B. Brocken, Brower Prisk, William Prisk, Thomas E. Prouse, Thomas Williams, M. P. Loeoni, Thos. Callos, J. Harris, S. Vallero and John Parks.

The sounding of the whistle gave the first signal of disaster and soon the shaft building of the Sleepy Hollow mine was so crowded with the families and relatives of the imprisoned miners, and those anxious to render assistance, that it was almost impossible for the work of rescue to proceed.

Deputy Sheriff W. W. Williams finally arrived on the ground, the building was cleared and practical miners offered their services in lowering the bucket. The farthest depth attained was 330 feet, the accumulated gas forced up by the rising water being such that a candle would not burn at a greater depth. A second effort was made, a larger sized safety lamp having been placed in the bucket. The rescuer who first descended in the bucket, Mr. F. Prisk, was found at the 330 foot level. On reaching the surface he was almost in an insensible condition. Other volunteers went down afterward, but were not successful in reaching a lower point in the shaft, owing to the rising of the water. Extra water buckets were sent for and brought to the mine, which are now working with a view of lowering the water. The managers of the property were on the ground and were very anxious in their efforts to relieve the men. The two in the Americans are without doubt dead. Those in the Sleepy Hollow, unless they can be found in some of the slopes, have met death in a similar manner.

Ever since the closing down of the pumps in the incline shaft of the new Gregory Mining company, the waters in that shaft have been gradually rising, the owners of the Fisk mine having been driven out of the lower to the upper workings. This was due to the inability of the owners of the Fisk and Sleepy Hollow to agree upon a plan to protect the drainage.

Even Fighting For Water.

HAZLETON, Pa., Aug. 30.—The scarcity of water in this locality is creating more distress daily. The situation in the suburban towns has reached such a stage that the people are actually fighting among themselves to secure what little supply there is available. At Mores the New Boston colliery has shut down indefinitely. There is no chance of its resuming until a copious rainfall comes. A peculiar feature of the situation there is the fact that some ignorant persons, believing that fire and smoke had a tendency to draw rain from the clouds, set the mountains on fire, and brush fires are now raging there.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 30.—Harry Brown, the well known comic opera comedian, whose home is in Portland, after years of ill-luck, has obtained a fortune in a peculiar manner. While filling an unprofitable engagement in Cleveland he cured a hitherto incurable melancholia patient, the young son of wealthy parents. The boy was afflicted with suicidal mania and finally saw Brown and laughed for the first time in his life. Brown became young Kellogg's physician and he cured him. When Mrs. Kellogg died recently, she bequeathed a comfortable fortune to Brown.

The Wreck of the Bawnmore.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—Advice from the wreck of the steamer Bawnmore, near Bandon, Ore., are that 28 of the crew of 30 were taken off in safety. One of the crew was killed and another fatally injured. The steamer will be a total loss as she is lying on the rocks in a heavy sea and pounding to pieces. The vessel is valued at $125,000 and the cargo at $20,000; some insurance on both.

ST. VINCENT'S BEER AGAIN.

A Second Protest Sent to Mgr. Satolli, This Time From Buffalo.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The protest against the manufacture and sale of beer by the Benedictines of St. Vincent's abbey of Beatty, Pa., is still under consideration by Archbishop Satolli. A second protest has been received here, this time from a temperance society of Buffalo, of which Rev. Father Zuecher is president. Mgr. Satolli has sent a letter to the Benedictines referring to the complaints. They have forwarded a response saying that there was no scandal connected with the sale of the beer, which they stated, was done merely to cover the cost of manufacture for their own consumption and the expense of the internal revenue tax.

The total amount manufactured, it was stated, was in the neighborhood of four barrels a week, which they regarded as an insignificant output. The Benedictines announce, however, their readiness to see what can be done in the matter to quiet the criticisms. A second letter has just reached the archbishop in which the Benedictines refer to a pamphlet circulated in Pennsylvania criticizing their production of beer and reiterate their attitude already outlined. Mgr. Satolli has not so far formulated any definite opinion in regard to the matter.

Several Bitten by a Mad Dog.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Aug. 30.—A 3-year-old child of Christian Hans, of South Williamsport, has been nearly killed by a mad dog. The dog knocked the child down and chewed his face, legs and arms so badly that he may die. After being driven away from the child, the dog ran some distance, where a second child was bitten. Later, two Misses Goodbrods were bitten. The canine finally ran into a cellar, where he was shot to death. Several horses and cats were bitten by the animal, before he was killed.

Minister Don's Mother Dead.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 30.—Mrs. James Dun, mother of Edwin Dun, United States minister to Japan, has died near London, this state. Mrs. Dun was very well and was probably known throughout Central Ohio, her husband being a prosperous farmer. She was a sister of Rear Admiral Henry Walke, who was a midshipman in 1827 and retired in 1871. Mrs. Dun was 75 years of age and was born in Chillicothe, O. She is a close relative of ex-senator Allen G. Thurman.

Building Boats For Chinese Service.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—While pleased with the turn that our diplomatic relations in China has taken and satisfied with the present representation of our navy in the waters of that country, the naval authorities here are still looking forward with eager interest to the completion of the three light draft gunboats now in process of construction at Newport News, Va. These vessels are designed especially for the Chinese service.

Depositions In Gould Case.

WARREN, Ind., Aug. 30.—Plummer & King, the local attorneys who represent George J. Gould in the suit for $40,000 brought against him by Zella Nicolaus, have been notified by the New York lawyers who have charge of Gould's case that depositions will be taken in this city on Sept. 3, beginning at 10 a. m. About 12 or 15 persons will be examined, and all the facts obtainable relating to Zella's life here will be secured.

Won't Flout the Red Flag.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—The red flag which was to grace the procession to be made Labor day in honor of Kier Hardie, the English socialist, will not appear as Mayor Swift has issued positive orders against it being carried through the streets. The mayor ordered Oscar Neebe, Michael Schwab and other socialist leaders brought to the city hall, and warned them against any attempt at display of the socialistic emblem.

The Chinese Minister's Call.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The Chinese minister has made a formal call at the state department, under instructions from his government, and gave the assurance that China is doing all in her power to punish the rioters. He gave substantially the same information concerning the progress of the investigation that was conveyed in these dispatches yesterday.

A Woman Missionary In Trouble.

TROY, Aug. 30.—Amelia A. Haswell, the city missionary accused of aiding in the escape of Trainor Oliver Curtis Perry from the Matteawan Insane Asylum. Criminal hospital, has been arrested here. She declined to make any statement further than to say that she had no part in the plot.

By a typographical error yesterday Ambrose Massey was given the credit of aiding Rev Foutts in the capture of 40 squirrels at Williamsport. It should have read Ambrose Webber, of Market street.

A fight over a bottle of beer occurred in the West End last night, and one participant was struck on the head with a stone. He was taken home by some friends with the blood streaming from a small gash in his forehead.

The race from Smith's Ferry between Messrs. Fox, Tarr, Waggoner and McCallister will probably be run next week. The second one has narrowed down to Hutcheson and Heddleston, but they will test their speed.

The many friends of Jewell, the rider, were wondering yesterday why he did not appear in the road race at Lisbon, and were in the dark today until they learned that his entry blank had been forgotten until it was too late.

It is related that some of the sports who went to Lisbon to see the races yesterday had their pockets bulging with money, but they brought it home because there was no one to take it from them in the regular line of betting.

The missing desks for the new school building arrived this morning, and will be placed in position at once, so that all will be ready for the start on Tuesday. The desks were packed in 34 crates, and are enough to fill the vacant rooms.

Sanitary Policeman King found a case of scarlet fever yesterday while congratulating himself on the fact that there were no contagious cases in the city. The usual card of warning was tacked up at 184 Third street, where the Roth family reside.

"Do you know where I can get a skiff; I want to move along Fifth street," said a well known resident to a newspaper man last night. "Some of the pavements between Market and Jackson are always flooded so that a boat is more appropriate than walking."

Mr. Dickey arranged with the Buffalo Bill show to pitch their tents on the East End ground as a contract he has in his possession is ample proof, but later it was found that the park was not large enough for the show, and the other ground was secured.

The members of St. Stephen's church are preparing for a harvest home service to be held in the church on Sept. 15. Special music will be among the most attractive features, and the occasion will be made interesting by a thorough service suitable for the occasion.

An old lady on Washington street this morning imagined her pocket-book had been taken, but was assured by her little granddaughter that she had it safe in her hand. The lady explained to the crowd that she had never lost anything yet, and she was too old to begin now.

Among the most novel entertainments ever given in the city the Japanese wedding at the Methodist Protestant church last evening will occupy a prominent place. The ceremony occupied the best part of an hour, and at its close the audience was treated to tea and rice cakes. Every detail of marriage ceremony as the Japanese have it was faithfully carried out, and left a good impression with the audience.

Dr. John Swan and family, who are visiting in this county, are now with friends at Calcutta, but expect next Tuesday to start for their station in China. They go from here to San Francisco and from there to Vancouver, where they take the vessel for Yokohama, and from there to their destination. J. L. Swan, of this city, has exhausted his powers of persuasion in endeavoring to prevent his brother's return, but the doctor professes to believe there will be no danger at his station.

Caution about the Use and Selection of Spectacles. "Persons having normal vision will be able to read this notice at a distance of 14 inches from the eyes with ease and comfort. Also will be able to read it with such ease and comfort. If unable to do so, your eyes are defective and should have immediate attention. When the eyes become tired from reading, writing, or any other work, the eyes should be rested. It is a very common mistake to think that glasses are needed. The reason is in the strong desire to see every object clearly and have perfectly correct vision. Continued use of cheap glasses issued will result in positive injury from the constant strain upon the muscles of accommodation to supply the defect in the eye."

ATLANTIC TEA CO.

The Buffalo Bill Show Will Go On Just
the Same.

It can rain from now until midnight if it so desires, the show will go on just the same. The audience is well protected from the elements, and
the performers have braved
them so often that it matters little what weather is outside.
The program at the evening performance is a change from the afternoon so that all can attend both and see two different bills.

The Buffalo Bill show did not reach
town until late this morning, but had
an appreciative audience in the rain
to watch the unloading. Blanketed Indians smoking cigarettes stalked
about the lower part of Broadway
swearing at the rain and cursing the
mud with as much zest as some of their white brethren. The men behaved themselves very well, and
worked with the discipline and regularity so often seen in a well regulated show. The park was a damp swamp when they began to pitch their
tents but they made it as habitable as
possible, and a performance was given
this afternoon. The usual program will be carried out this evening, and
attend. The show is the best on the road, and is equal to the magnificent
performance given by the great scout
and his unique aggregation at Chicago.

ment.

Doctor Marshall believes that the point where the improvement of the East End road is to begin is not set in the public mind, and makes this statement: The starting point is on Thompson hill at the junction of Thompson
avenue, Pennsylvania avenue, Robinson street and Ravine street. It does not begin at College street, as some people seem to think. From that point to the school house it is intended to improve provided the people

Railroad Detectives Are in the City Today.

Chief Burr, the man who has gained
fame as the head of the detective
force of the Cleveland and Pittsburg,
is in town today accompanied by four
men. They are following the show,
and have no business here except to
keep an eye upon other people who
are also following the train. Chief Burr does not propose to have patrons
of the road annoyed or robbed if he
can help it, and his force has to the present been successful in keeping
down lawlessness.

Grounds.

East End people have learned that
a local saloonist is endeavoring to locate a saloon near Columbus park.
In order to do a rushing business and
gather in the shekels on Labor Day.
East End people think it would be an outrage to allow such a move, if they can prevent it and expect the aid
of Trades council in working against
it. The law compelling the lessor of ground to pay revenue until next May
will go a great ways toward calling a halt.

A BIG FIGHT.

There Were Some Broken Heads at the Show Ground.

Some of the attaches of the show
became involved in a row at the park
this morning, and there was a fight of
no mean proportions. Some one sent
for the police, but it was all over when
the officers arrived and no arrests
were made. The combatants settled
the matter among themselves in short
order, and several heads were broken,
but so quickly that no one knew anything of it until peace was again restored.

Interested Elsewhere.

That president of council Doctor Marshall is not giving his entire attention to the new East End road
project at the expense of the balance
of the city, is shown by his efforts to have opened two thoroughfares that would be a great benefit to the community. They are Pleasant street leading to the Lisbon road and Avondale street lead-
is working hard for these improvements.

Visiting Poor Authorities.

C. D. Filson, poor director, and Superintendent Riddle, of the infirmary, were in town today. The gentlemen say there are a goodly number
in the infirmary at present, the whole
numbering 104, and Liverpool is well represented. The infirmary is in excellent condition, and can hold its
own with any similar institution in
the state.

Still They Howl.

"The manner in which the Crisis
wing of the Typographical union
blows its horn is enough to make a fair-minded man sick with disgust,"
said a member of the union this morning. "We always maintained that we

trip because its sole object was the
dirty politics controlled by Deldrick,
and we meant it."

Good For Trappe.

A Pittsburg paper sees Trappe in
this way:

"It may be remarked that Trappe,
the bicyclist, is the gamiest rider
among any of the local Class A men,
never shirks hard races, and does not

Business Was Dull.

Outgoing passengers at the local
depot of the Cleveland and
Pittsburg railroad were scarce
today. Almost everybody stayed at home to see the circus and the
crowded platform at each train was caused by visitors.

Six of One, Etc.

Dick Green was before Mayor Gilbert this morning on a charge of disorderly conduct. He showed, however, that he merely indulged in a heated argument with a man as ex-
go.

He Has Resigned.

Bert Gardner, the genial young man who has been clerking in the Eagle Hardware store, has resigned and
leaves tomorrow for Atlanta, Ga. Mr.
friends during his stay here.

A Breakdown.

Edward Fastbinder, the oil driller,
had a breakdown and a spill on the Lisbon road this morning while on his way to see Buffalo Bill. He was not seriously hurt and "poled" the wagon
into the city.

A Bad Washout.

Commissioner Welsh's force were engaged today in putting in a box on Minerva street where a bad washout

Before Squire Morley.

John Brindley secured judgment
for $16.50 in Squire Morley's court this afternoon against F. V. Risinger, defendant failing to appear.

A Teachers' Meeting.

Superintendent Sanor requests that
all teachers be present at the meeting
called for Monday afternoon in Central building at 2:30 o'clock.

Conductors Today.

The street cars were provided with
conductors to-day in anticipation of
a great crowd being in town.

Ill With Rheumatism.

Miss Crawford, a well known young lady, is ill at her home in Bradshaw addition with rheumatism.

A New Girl.

Donald, 150 Chestnut street, a daughter.

"The McKinley Two Step March,"

Marine Band, has made a decided

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Miss Davidson, of Mingo, was the guest of friends here today.

—Zed Smith, of Smith's Ferry, was
in town today calling on friends.

—Howard Hullings is home from a visit to relatives in Pennsylvania.

—John S. Mason, of Pittsburg, called
on friends in the city this morning.

—Miss Mamie House returned this morning from a visit in New York city.

—Solicitor Clark was able to be out today after an illness of a week or more.

avenue.

—Frank Gass, who has been visiting his brother, W. H. Gass, returned home yesterday morning.

—Howard Elverson, of New Bright-
on, who has been visiting friends here, returned home yesterday.

—Frank Robbins and Mr. Thomp-
Bill and visiting Ross Robbins.

—Barney Anderson returned this morning from Smith's Ferry to join
the soldiers at the state encampment.

Miss Gertrude Nace, of Lisbon who
for some time has been visiting her cousin, Miss Anna Myers, left for her home Wednesday evening.

—Reverend Roetelt, of Mansfield,
will be the guest of Reverend Reinartz
and fill the pulpit at the German Lutheran church on Sunday.

—Dr. S. G. Bigelow, of Silver Lake,
Ind., is visiting Captain Myers and family, Fifth street. The doctor was a member of Captain Myers' company
during the war, and 35 years ago
practiced medicine in Wellsville.

He Came From the West and Was Passionately New Yorker Knew It.

His coat was a trifle too long and his
trousers an inch too wide at the knee to
be strictly and exactly fashionable; but,
aside from these nice discriminations,
he was dressed according to the dictates
of the fashion autocrats.

We took the "L" together at Park
place, and I noticed a puzzled expression, half amusement, half annoyance,
on his face. At Thirty-third street he surrendered his seat to an elderly woman and stood in the aisle in front of where I sat. It was evident that he was anxious to tell some one of the subjects
on his mind, so I was not surprised when he caught my eye and opened the conversation.

"Just now," he said, "as I was hurrying to the station, a man caught hold
of my arm and stopped me. He was a respectable looking fellow, well clothed,
middle.

"I've been on a drunk," the man said to me, "and I am sobering up. I live in Hackensack, and I want to get home. I haven't a cent and want a quarter."

"I looked him over carefully," continued my chance acquaintance, "concluded he was telling the truth and gave him the money. As I hurried on, he shouted after me:

"I knew you were from the west, and I knew you would give me the money. They are white out there!"

"Now, what I want to know," said
my acquaintance, "is how did he know
I was from the west? It's true, but how did he know it? Would you know it?
Am I marked? Have I any tag on me to tell others that I am a westerner?"

"None that I know of," I assured him, "unless it be such little things as giving your seat up to ladies. That generally indicates that a man is not a native New Yorker."

I got out at Fifty-fifth street and left him with the same quizzical expression
as if the question had been only half answered.—New York Journal.

DRINK WITH MEALS.

Liquid Food an Aid to Digestion, and Cold
Drinks Refresh Heated Persons.

The incessant adjuration not to drink
with meals we have always held the reverse of truth from theory and from experience. The latter is that dry meals
cause heartburn, the former shows that
splitting up the meal of solid food with
liquid acts precisely like splitting logs
of wood into kindling for the fire, giving
the digestive fluid easy access to the
small particles, instead of sizzling and
making gas on the outside of a wad of
thick paste. And the talk of diluting the
gastric juice is nonsense, because the
surplus fluid drains quickly through the stomach. Better drink too much than
too little.

We are glad now to be re-enforced by
an English sporting man, Mr. Horace Hayes, who says that drinking nothing
during or for an hour and a half after
meals is the best of ways to train down
weight, but he cannot do it because it always brings on rheumatism—probably
from the solid food producing overcon-
centrated salts in the circulation, and
consequent deposits in the muscular fiber. The same writer says that the notion about animals being injured by giving them a drink when heated is a stupid
and cruel piece of barbarism; that it
only does them harm when the drink is
very cold, by producing nervous shocks
as it would to a man, while if the chill
is taken off it first, it refreshes a heated
horse to take a good drink just as it does a heated human being.—Travelers' Record.

We Are Slaves to Greed.

If to be free is to live in a country
(the United States) where you are in
mortal dread of the press and the police, where you are heartily ashamed of
having any one connected with you engaged in politics, where corruption
reigns in every department of the government and the municipalities, where
the only aristocracy is that of wealth
and not of honor, and where the liberal
professions are all counted lower than Wall street, where, in effect, men are
the veritable slaves of greed and gain,
why, give me the old fashioned slavery
of the old country and the domination
of some recognized house which is at least the fountain of honor.

One doesn't have to apologize in England for going to court, but it seems a necessity in America if one is in any way connected with the White House.
When I first came here, I thought a member of the house of representatives
held a position at least analogous to the average member of parliament. I find,
on the contrary, he is about as much
esteemed as an outside broker on the
reasons.—Temple Bar.

Marriage of the Adriatic.

"The Marriage of the Adriatic" was instituted in commemoration of a naval victory won by Sebastian Zilavi, doge of Venice, over Otto, son of Frederick Barbarossa, 1174. In consequence of this victory Pope Alexander III, who had been driven to take refuge in Venice, gave to the doge the sovereignty of
the sea, and every year the doge used to go in grand procession in his state barge
and throw a gold ring into the Adriatic, saying, "With this ring I thee wed."
Flowers were then thrown into the sea,
and the procession returned. The sentence delivered by the doge on the occasion was literally, "Desponsamus te Mare nostrum in brooklyn viri perpetuo que domini."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Animals That Commit Suicide.

Intelligent observers have testified to
facts which appear to show that in certain circumstances the snake, scorpion
and even some quadrupeds commit suicide. M. Henry, a clock manufacturer of Longuyon, France, has recently described an experiment of the kind which he made with a wasp. The wasp was imprisoned under a glass, and knowing
that benzine asphyxiates insects he put tive. The wasp became uncomfortable, then angrily attacked the paper, but finding all its efforts unavailing it finally lay down on its back, and folding up its abdomen planted its sting thrice into its firm the fact that, in spite of his hu-ment on three wasps with the like result.—London Globe.

The Scholars of France.

As a sample of the payment of distinguished scholars in this country it may be mentioned that M. Gaston Boissier,
who was lately elected life secretary of
the Academy, only received $6000 annually as rector of the College de France.
In his new position he is entitled to $1,- 200, or double the sum paid him as head of the great educational establishment
over which Ernest Renan ruled. The
immortals, according to the foundation rules, are supposed to be paid $3000 yearly, in addition to their fees for attending meetings. As a matter of fact, however, they only receive $200 annually.
The remainder of the sum forms a sinking fund, out of which eight aged academicians get allowances, if their private

Although Edwin Milton Royle's new
play, "Mexico," will depend for success
entirely upon the dramatic strength of its
story and the interest of its character drawing, the production will rival in scenes,
picturesqueness and effect any of the dramas that have nothing but the spectacular to recommend them. Mr. Mayerhofer, the famous German electrician who
had charge of the great spectacle "Ura-
nia," is preparing for "Mexico" a number of unique effects, including among other things a thunderbolt which is used
to shatter a certain tower with visible and
literally striking effect.

TWO ENTERTAINMENTS.

One Performance on the Stage, the Other
In the Audience.

I attended a recent performance given
by some amateur actors and actresses—
very good they were, too—and while I enjoyed the stage entertainment I was
not unmindful of the one that was in progress directly behind me.

It was furnished by an old lady and two young ones—where I say "young ones" I don't mean children—and its beginning antedated the overture in this
style:

"Can you read the programme, mother?"

"Why, yes; but it must be wrong.
Here's Annie's name down, and it says
was an actress."

"Only a servant in the play, mother."
"But that seems a kind of mean thing
to play. She doesn't have to do that,
goodness knows!"

"She has to play whatever they give her to play. She's a beginner, you know."

"Well, I wouldn't begin that way."

"Annie" appeared presently.

She said, "Yes, my lady," and "No,
your lordship," and "I will tell her
ladyship that you are here," and a few more stammers of that sort very well, I thought.

But when the French count with the
pointed beard chucks her under the chin
I could hear the old lady behind me getting into a fine rage.

"Well, the idea of our Annie letting
a man do a thing like that!"

"But, mother, that's in the play."

"I don't care if it is. I suppose he'll

Well, he did kiss her shortly after and
got a good slap in the face for his pains.

audible voice.

"I thought Annie wouldn't stand anything of that sort!"

love affairs with the footman, however,
and could hardly be kept in her chair
when the two plighted their troth.

"I don't call that play acting," she said. "They were just like two servants, and I don't like it."

When the curtain dropped, they all
went around to the stage door, and
somehow I felt sorry for Annie, coming from the stage full of hot enthusiasm, only to receive—mentally
